R. R. Labor Board Orders Inquiry Into "Threatened Interruption of Traffic"

CHICAGO, June 29.—(By Associated Press)—Strike orders signed by the six craft presidents of the railroad shopmen's organization were sent out today to general chairmen representing 400,000 men, authorizing a strike at 10 a. m., July 1 "on all railroads and Pullman shops in the United States."

Leaders Cited
CHICAGO, June 29 (By the Associated Press).—The United States railroad labor board cited the national officers of the six-shop craft unions, the railway executives now meeting here, and the officers of four other railroad unions to appear before the board tomorrow afternoon in an inquiry into the "threatened interruption of traffic."

In addition to the shopmen, whose strike order already has been issued, the four other unions cited now taking a strike vote are the clerks, maintenance of way men, stationary firemen and others and signal men.

B. M. Jewell, leader of the shopmen, today served formal notice on the railroad labor board that a strike call had been issued on all railroad and Pullman operating department local lodges of the six-shop crafts.

The meeting of the 10 unions was set for 2 o'clock tomorrow by the labor board, when the formal notice of the strike call was received from no shopmen, announcing the time for the walkout as next Saturday at 10 a. m.

Local and State Authorities Still Seek Occupants of Death Car

The occupants of the blue colored, boat-shaped racer, wanted by the Billerica police in connection with the death of a six months' old boy and the serious injury of his mother, the result of an auto crash Tuesday night, are still at large today despite the combined efforts of Lowell, Billerica, Bedford and Lexington police.

The newest developments in the case are: The shifting of suspicion from Lowell residents to those of Lexington; the entry into the case of Frank A. Goodwin, state registrar of motor vehicles; the expectation of an early arrest of Lexington parties; the running down of several clues in connection with Lowell people and the furnishing of a fresh clue to the local police which concerns a local auto owner.

DUBLIN, June 29. (By Associated Press).—The irregular Irish forces have captured 17 soldiers of the provisional government in the Dominick street area, according to an unofficial report late this afternoon.

Fresh Terms Rejected
LONDON, June 29. (By Associated Press).—Fresh terms were offered the insurgents in the Four Courts in Dublin, today, says a Dublin despatch to the Evening News, but they refused to surrender, and after two hours' delay firing was resumed. The early evacuation of the stronghold is expected.

WILL CONDUCT GENERAL INSURANCE BUSINESS

A partnership has been formed for the conduct of a general insurance business by Herford N. Elliott, of the firm of Thomas H. Elliott & Son, and Frank H. Byers, recently connected with the firm of Byam Brothers and associated with the Aetna company. Both men have given many years to the study of insurance and the partnership now formed is the result of close friendship and business acquaintance.

The firm will bear the name of Elliott & Byers and will have offices at 64 Central street, corner of Prescott.

According to Henry D. Livingston, chief of police in Billerica, the finger of suspicion points strongly to a Lexington man as the driver and owner of the car which is alleged to have crowded a Boston car from the highway and against a telephone pole which caused serious injury to Mrs. George Hardy of Somerville and the instant death of her six months' old son.

The searching inquiry of the combined police departments has brought forth many new stories and versions of the accident. One man came forward with the information that he did not see the actual crash but that he saw the blue racer speed away from the scene. He avers two of the occupants of the car, both young men, Continued to Page 6

NAVAL TREATY IS ACCEPTED

Japanese Privy Council Passes Pact Adopted at Washington Conference

Submitted to Prince Regent for Ratification, Without Amendment

TOKIO, June 29.—(By Associated Press).—The privy council passed the naval treaty adopted at the Washington art conference and submitted it today to the prince regent for ratification.

The council's approval included the provision against poison gas and the clause restricting submarines. Viscount Ito, reporting for the council's investigating committee, said the committee found the ratio of ships apportioned to Japan disadvantageous to the empire and requested the government to use greater care in the future.

The committee of the privy council, however, found that the Japanese delegates at Washington were not at fault in failing to make better terms. From a spirit of respect for the Washington conference in its desire to maintain the world's peace, the committee recommended ratification without amendment.

CHERRY AND WEBB STORE

Action of Court Clears Way for Contemplated Expansion of Local Store

That portion of the Cherry & Webb store in John street that was a part of the Hyman Parker estate has been sold to the occupying company by order of the Middlesex county probate court. A few weeks ago it was announced that this property had been purchased by Charles and Cyrus Fidler, proprietors of the Boston Ladies' Outfitters, but inasmuch as objection to the sale was filed by Judge Reimold Boyd of Birmingham, Ala., one of the parties interested in the estate, the court disallowed the sale and allowed it to be bid on competitively until purchased by Cherry & Webb at a much higher price than originally quoted.

Judge Boyd objected to the sale on the ground that a higher price than paid by the Fiders was obtainable. The hearing was held yesterday before Judge White of Essex county, sitting as third judge in the Middlesex court.

Kerwin & Rully represented the Parker estate at the hearing; James Gilbert Hill represented Judge Reimold, while Bennett Silverblatt and Albert S. Howard represented Charles and Cyrus Fidler. The Fiders were given an opportunity to increase their original price before the property finally was allowed to go for an offer made by William S. Cherry, representing the occupying firm.

The sale now gives the Cherry & Webb Co. an opportunity to enlarge its business to take in the John and Merrimack street corner, owing to a recent purchase of the Five Cent Savings bank building.

Mayor Threatened to Remove From Office the Three Members of Board of Public Service

Authorized Clerk in Engineer's Office to Tell Chairman Murphy That Board Would Be Ousted Unless it Met With Him on Wednesday Between 9 and 10 A. M.—Murphy Says "Impossible to Meet" and Has Heard No Further Word

Mayor George H. Brown may not have it in his mind today to remove the board of public service, or request the resignations of its three members, Messrs. Murphy, Bowers and Leary, but this seemed to be his intention Tuesday evening when he authorized Miss Mary A. Ordway, clerk of the office of the city engineer, to tell Dennis J. Murphy, chairman of the board, that unless his board was present in the mayor's office between the hours of 9 and 10 o'clock Wednesday morning, he would remove them.

Today, while discussing the events that have followed the action of the board in making Supt. Harry P. Doherty the responsible official in the carrying out of the work of the street department, Chairman Dennis J. Murphy told the story of the threatened removal.

"It was about 5 o'clock Tuesday afternoon that Miss Ordway of the engineer's office called me on the telephone," said Mr. Murphy. "She said that she was speaking for the mayor, who wanted the board to meet that evening. I told her that it would not be possible for me to call the three members together at such short notice. She then went to transmit this information to Mayor Brown.

"Miss Ordway again called me on the 'phone," continued the chairman, "and said that the mayor wanted the board to meet him the very first thing in the morning—that would be yesterday. I then told Miss Ordway that I understood Mr. Bowers wanted to be

Shut Down and Readjustment of Wages Announced in the Merrimack Mills

The Merrimack mills will shut down Saturday noon and will not reopen again until Monday, July 10, at which time a new scale of wages for all the employees of the mill will go into effect. There were no notices posted in the mill and Agent Wadleigh stated this morning that he will not post any, but that the operatives have been or will be notified individually of the shut down and the readjustment of wages.

By a readjustment of wages it is meant that a reduction will go into effect, but just to what extent, could not be learned, for Agent Wadleigh refused to give any information on the subject. When questioned by The Sun reporter, he simply stated that the reduction will affect every employee of the mill. He also added that when the mill reopens those who are employed at present will be given full-time employment.

The Merrimack Mfg. Co. has been operating on short time for several months with about 30 per cent. of the employees. Some departments have been working four days and others five. The shut-down and the reduction, it is said, are due to the business depression.

When informed of Mr. Wadleigh's statement relative to a reduction in wages, John Hagley, chairman of strike committee, president of the Lowell Textile council and a member of the executive board of the United Textile Workers of America, stated that the mandate issued by the international body of the United Textile Workers of America last Feb. 18, calls for a strike in any mill where notices of a reduction in wages are posted, without going through the regular course of holding a special meeting and having a two-thirds vote to annul a strike, and he said that mandate is still in force. When told that there were no notices posted, but that the operatives would be notified verbally, he questioned the legality of such action. "The law states," he said, "that the scale of wages for piece workers shall be posted in a conspicuous place in the mill, and there are numerous operatives in the Merrimack mills as well as in other cotton mills, who are being paid on a piece-work basis. If notices are not properly posted and the officials of the company attempt to cut down the wages, the matter may go to court." He concluded by saying, "We are not looking for trouble, but we will meet it if it comes."

As far as could be learned no other local mills have announced reductions in wages or curtailments with the exception of the Merrimack mills.

OUTING IN TYNGSBORO

Notre Dame Alumnae Association Holds Annual Outing at Tyngsboro

At the home of the Sisters of Notre Dame in Tyngsboro today the Notre Dame Alumnae association, with one of the largest gatherings ever assembled at a similar event, held its annual outing. In addition to the large number of Lowell members, greater by far than ever before, associates from Washington, D. C., Boston, Lawrence, Roxbury and other localities flocked to the grounds and were still arriving long after noon.

The alumnae began the day's program with prayer in the chapel. Thence they journeyed to the lawn, where the salute to the flag was carried out, followed by the rendition of the national anthem and other patriotic songs.

During the afternoon sports and games of wide variety held the attention of all who were present. Miss Shay was in charge of this section of the program and everything was run off without a hitch.

Later in the day, the members assembled for prayer at the grove adjoining the residence of the sisters. The basket luncheon, one of the day's essential features, was attended to assiduously.

The officers of the association, in whose care lay the arrangement of the program, are: President, Miss Anna J. Devine; vice president, Miss Rose Joyce; secretary, Miss Blanche Walsh; and treasurer, Mrs. Robert Steehan of Lawrence.

BILLS APPROVED

Two bills charged against the city council fund that have been lying unapproved on the auditor's desk for the past two months or more, on orders issued by Mayor George H. Brown, now have been approved by the budget and audit commission, which has notified the mayor of its action. The bills were presented by William J. Garman and Ovie's Taxi Service, in the sum of $39 and $20, respectively, and were for services rendered in transporting members of the city council from city hall to the isolation hospital and return on April 4.

STEAMER HIT ROCK IN FOG

The Providence, From New York to Fall River, Damaged Off Fort Wetherell

281 Passengers Taken Off and Landed at Newport, Rhode Island

NEWPORT, R. I., June 29.—The steamer Providence, bound from New York to Fall River, struck a ledge of rock off Fort Wetherell, early today. Her passengers were landed here at 8 o'clock this morning. No one was injured.

The Providence struck at 3 o'clock this morning in a dense fog at a point about two miles within the entrance to Narragansett Bay, where the shore is very rocky. She drove 100 feet onto the ledge. The tide was out.

Captain Hamlin assured the passengers there was no danger and then sent a call for help to this city, about a half mile distant.

The steamer General, also of the New England Steamship Co.'s line, proceeded to the assistance of the Providence. The latter's passengers were taken off without difficulty and brought here, where arrangements were made to send them to Fall River by train. The Providence appeared badly damaged.

The steamer Pequot stood by the Providence this morning while efforts were made to determine how badly the crippled vessel was damaged. The Providence carried 281 passengers.

When the steamer struck on the rocks at Old Fort Point at 2:45 this morning the 281 passengers were not unduly disturbed, being calm due to the efforts of Captain Hamlin and officers of the Providence. The shore where the Providence grounded is hold and rocky with deep water just off the rocks. Had the Providence gone 100 feet to the east, it would have cleared.

Uses Radio to Call For Help
Captain Hamlin used the radio to get into touch with the New England Navigation Co.'s plant in Newport, and Warren T. Barry, superintendent of marine construction, was notified. He immediately made plans to have the steamer General of the Wickford line go to the Jamestown side of the bay to be of assistance to the Providence. No alarming reports came from the stranded liner but the need of immediate assistance in the fog was deemed advisable as there is no indication when the steamer will be cleared.

Upon reaching the Providence, the General found that it could easily go alongside due to the depth of the water. The passengers, 281 in number, were taken off easily, the General being assisted in the work by the fishing steamer Wilcox, which was nearby. The position of the Providence was such that some passengers landed on the Jamestown shore by using a ladder from the steamer to the ground, while on the other side, the passengers were stepping into the General.

The passengers were brought to Newport by the General and a special train was waiting to take them to Fall River and Boston. On the way over the passengers took the incident as a lark, laughing and joking, with no evidence of excitement. One passenger stated that the crash reminded him of a boat bringing up sharply alongside a dock.

The passenger list of the Providence is not available, but it is understood that the majority of passengers were bound for Boston and the North Shore. They were able to secure their

ST. MARGARET'S PARISH

Annual Lawn Party at the Kasino This Afternoon and Evening—Fine Program

After many weeks of careful preparations and enthusiastic endeavor, the day of the annual lawn party of St. Margaret's parish dawned today with everything in readiness for one of the most memorable events in the history of the parish's social activities.

Since the inception of the progressive parish in the Highlands the annual lawn parties have proven among the most successful and enjoyable events on the calendar. Each year a novel feature has been provided to add interest to the affair and augment the returns. Many have been the innovations introduced, but the one selected for this year's party is considered the most unique and most valuable ever provided in connection with the parties.

"Just a Love Nest," which consists of tapestry parlor suite, a library table, an art square and a floor lamp, is the feature of the day. The "nest" has been on display in the windows of the Goodin Co. on Prescott street and A. C. Pollard's on Merrimack street for the past month. Books have been circulated throughout the city and all the drawings are in by tonight the drawing will take place.

MISS DORIS CONLEY

Many other attractions are also on the program, making up an entertainment that is bound to provide enjoyment for young and old.

This afternoon was given over to the children and a large crowd made its way to the Kasino to participate in the program. The big feature of this afternoon's program was an exceptional good program of specialty dancing by the children of the parish. This part was in charge of Miss Doris Conley, Lowell's highly talented artist. She arranged and directed the little ones over a period of several weeks and the remarkable manner in which they executed the many beautiful and intricate evolutions reflected great credit on teacher and pupils alike.

In addition to the dancing numbers a program of sports arranged by John St. Croix, was also on the afternoon's program. These events took place on the lawn adjoining the Kasino and were run off with precision and dash, and resulted in many spirited contests.

Tonight the adults will hold forth. The dancing program will be repeated by Miss Conley. This will begin at 8 o'clock and will conclude at 9 o'clock, after which there will be general dancing until midnight. The accompanists for the dancing numbers are Miss Alice Fish and "Al" Forrest, and their efforts play an important part in the success of the evening.

A miniature midway including doll stands, ice cream and candy and cake tables, wheels, etc., in charge of capable and energetic committees, is located on the grounds. All were all well patronized this afternoon and plans have been made to handle bigger crowds this evening.

The purpose of this year is to augment and it possible to complete the fund being raised to complete the work of converting the lower part of the church into an attractive auditorium. To meet the ever-growing needs of the parish, increasing almost daily, this lower auditorium is necessary as the upper church has become inadequate to accommodate the large numbers attending services there. Already remarkable progress has been made in the repair work, but much remains to be done. It is the policy of the pastor, Rev. Charles J. Galligan, to do the work on the "pay-as-you-go" plan, so that when it is finished no great debt will be confronting the parishioners.

The arrangements for today's party are under the general supervision of Rev. William P. Drennan, who was enthusiastically and ably assisted by the pastor, Rev. Charles J. Galligan and Rev. Andrew F. O'Brien, and the various committees composed of men and women of the parish.

The dancing program under the direction of Miss Doris Conley, which was given this afternoon and which will be repeated this evening, follows: Jungle Bells—Solo, Margaret Matthews; group of dancers, Mary Hogan, Mary Kelly, Eileen Shore, Barbara Dunlay, Helena Sherman, Rita Butterfield, Sarah Kilmarlin, Barbara O'Hearn, Frances Hamilton, Emily Correlle, Eileen Allen, Ruth Cheney, Rita Morrison.

baggage and personal effects which they brought with them.

At present the tug Solicitor from Newport and the fishing steamer Wilcox are standing by to be of whatever assistance they can. The extent of the damage to the Providence is still unknown and will not be ascertained until the steamer is cleared.

OUTING POSTPONED
The Sunday school outing of the Calvary Baptist church which was to have been held at Willow Dale today was postponed owing to the threatening weather. The affair will be held Saturday, special cars leaving Liberty and Hastings streets at 10 a. m., returning at 6 in the evening.

Two European capitals, Petrograd and Madrid, were built in order, the one by Peter the Great, the other by Philip II, who chose the lofty site because of the asthma from which he suffered.

Mayor Threatened to Remove Board of Public Service

out of town all day on Wednesday, that Mr. Leary had planned to be in Haverhill and that I, too, was obliged to go to Boston on law business. She replied that the mayor was most insistent that the board meet.

"I then told Miss Ordway that I would get in touch with Mr. Bowers and Mr. Leary and see if there was a chance of holding a meeting of the board Wednesday. Mr. Bowers told me that it would be absolutely impossible for him to remain in the city Wednesday and Mr. Leary said that it was necessary for him to be in Haverhill.

"After I had given this information to Miss Ordway," Mr. Murphy went on, "she told me that the mayor had authorized her to say that unless we met with him in his office between 9 and 10 o'clock Wednesday morning, he would remove us. I said that he could do that, if he wanted to, but that it would not be possible for the board members to meet him.

"I have not heard from the mayor or from anyone authorized to speak for him since that time," said the chairman, "although I understand that he called in City Messenger Monahan to prepare notices of removal to be served on us and afterwards had the notices destroyed or nullified in some way."

The board meets today at 4 p. m. and it is not known whether or not the mayor will attend. Mr. Murphy said this morning that he understood that he had planned to meet with them, but did not know definitely.

Mr. Murphy, in discussing the action of the board in making Supt. Doherty the man responsible for the work in the street department, said that no change whatsoever has been made and that the work is being carried on strictly in accordance with the words of the charter.

"The charter says that the board of public service constitutes the executive head of the street department," said Mr. Murphy. "The city engineer, Mr. Kearney, as secretary of the board, is directly subordinate to us. Under him is the superintendent of streets. The engineer is supposed to lay out and plan the work and Mr. Doherty is supposed to see that it is properly done. Under him is the assistant superintendent of streets and the foreman.

"The charter is very clear in this matter and there can be no doubt as to the status of either Supt. Doherty or Supt. Gardner of the water department," said Mr. Murphy in conclusion.

Indigestion After Attack of Grip

"I suffered with stomach trouble for about six months and think it was due to an attack of the grip which left me in a greatly run down condition," says Mrs. Cornie West, of No. 54 South May avenue, Columbus, Ohio.

"After eating a meal the food did not digest but would lie in my stomach and become sour. I was constantly belching gas and had intense pains after eating. There were also severe pains in my left side and under my left shoulder. I grew very nervous and irritable and oftentimes it seemed as though my nerves were all in a quiver. The nervousness affected my head. I had frequent dizzy spells and would not get a good night's rest for a week at a time.

"My mother started me using Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for they had helped her. After taking them a short time I felt much better and continued well. I was well. I feel that it is my duty to recommend Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for I think there is no medicine like them."

REGENERATIVE RECEIVER WITH TWO-SLIDE TUNER

BY PAUL F. GODLEY
America's Foremost Radio Authority
All the thrills which go with owning and operating a regenerative receiver may be experienced at very little expense.

The diagram shows a method of connecting a conventional type of double-tuned coil with a vacuum tube and its batteries in such a way as to give access to a fairly broad band of waves while providing an extremely simple means of securing regenerative amplification.

With this arrangement the vacuum

tube may be put through its paces in the same way as though an expensive set were used. In the specially designed receiver of this type more complete control is provided, of course, but the actions and effects are identical in either case.

Six-tenths of the way from one end of the tuning coil take off a tap from one of the wires at a point where the connection will not interfere with the operation of the sliders. Connect the tuning coil as shown, in circuit.

Set slider "B" on the wire from which the tap was taken.

Tune for incoming signals by variation of slider "A". When signal is tuned in, advance slider "B" toward the free end of the coil. Amplification will commence and reach an apparent maximum. Still greater strength of signals is to be had, however, by a final simultaneous adjustment of both "A" and "B".

This circuit may be improved upon by the addition of a variable condenser in the wire which leads to the antenna.

When slider "B" is carried forward too far the system will begin to act as a generator of oscillations. When in this condition, distant radio phone stations may be located by their "whistles".

SEASON OF "HARD-SEAT" PHOTOPLAYS

BY JAMES W. DEAN

NEW YORK, June 29.—The Top of New York is one of those hard-seat movies. You know it. The longer you watch it, the harder the theatre seat becomes, and the harder the seat becomes, the longer the picture seems.

They're making lots of that kind for the summer months.

The story was almost hopeless and the best the late William R. Taylor could make of it was a Koshier Irish stew, flavored with the pliancy of May McAvoy.

May is a show girl and the night before Christmas she accepts a squirrel coat from her employer so she can sell it to obtain funds for an operation for her sick little brother.

When the employer comes to keep an appointment he has made with May, she is saved from jumping off the roof by her next-door neighbor who lives in a bungalow on the roof of an East Side tenement.

Her rescuer beats up the villain, because he is the very self-same fellow who ran off with the rescuer's wife years before.

Maybe that isn't all of the story, but it's enough of it. The long and the short of it is that the picture is overworked. It should have been relieved.

Easy For Thin People to Put On Flesh and Gain Weight

In one month's time EVANS' TRIPLE PHOSPHATES puts on several pounds of solid red blooded flesh and changes your weak, nervous, tired body into a strong, vigorous, robust one or money back.

Of course medical men are surprised and many are still unbelievers, but the fact is evident to everyone up-to-date physicians that Evans' Triple Phosphates will produce flesh without violent methods, face creams, daily massage or heavy torture.

In order to assimilate the nourishing food thin people daily take into the body and turn it into healthy, red blooded tissue, the nerves that control the process of digestion and assimilation must be put in first-class shape, and until that is done you must just as well quit trying to put on flesh.

Your system is starving for something that will turn the food you eat into healthy, ray-thin flesh, and it can only be done in one way—correcting faulty, nervous digestion. One month's treatment is guaranteed to increase your weight at least several pounds, and in ten days make you feel like a new being, full of ambition, vigor and a desire to accomplish things. Fred Howard and all good druggists have agreed to supply Evans' Triple Phosphates and guarantee it to do just what is claimed for it, or money refunded.

Even though Evans' Triple Phosphates works wonders in all cases of nervous digestive and blood troubles, don't take it unless you really desire to put on flesh and gain weight.—Adv.

THE HORRORS OF INDIGESTION

Relieved By "Fruit-a-tives"
The Famous Fruit Medicine

Indigestion, Weak Digestion or partial digestion of food, is one of the most serious of present-day complaints.

Those who suffer with Indigestion, almost invariably are troubled with Rheumatism, Sleeplessness and excessive Nervousness.

"Fruit-a-tives" will always relieve Indigestion because these tablets strengthen the stomach muscles, increase the flow of digestive juices and correct Constipation, which usually accompanies Indigestion.

60c a box, 6 for $2.50, trial size 25c. At dealers or from FRUIT-A-TIVES Limited, GEDENBURG, N.Y.

At the end of the first inning after he had the bases filled.

Miss McAvoy and Hughes

"Sentimental Tommy" was a great photoplay because of the direction of John S. Robertson and because of the fine acting of Gareth Hughes and May McAvoy.

Great things were expected of those two young players after that film. But neither since has appeared in a worthwhile picture. They have not fitted the characters assigned them to enact.

Many of the current movies could be improved if producers did not seek to fit square pegs into round holes, thus wasting the ability of such players as Hughes and Miss McAvoy.

Wigs

Fewer screen actresses have lovelier tresses than May McAvoy. That may be the reason it is covered with a blonde wig that is plainly a wig throughout "The Top of New York."

For no apparent reason artificial ugliness is substituted for natural loveliness. Dorothy Dalton is another actress who has achieved the same disappointing effect with a wig in recent pictures.

What Mary Thinks

Mary Pickford says the personal appearances of stars will become less popular with each succeeding season and the general public will be just as pleased to see the idea pass into permanent discard. Why succeeding seasons, Mary? This one ought to be the last for personal appearances.

Value of an Actor

That Cooley starred in the movies because he needed the money. There's no doubt about that. His debut was at the Selig studio in support of a big lion. When Cooley entered the cage he asked the lion's trainer if he had a gun ready in case the lion became suddenly hungry. "Well, no," the trainer shouted. "That lion is a lot more than any actor that ever lived."

An old custom was for unmarried girls to fast on Midsummer Day, lay a meal on the table at midnight, leave the door open, and wait for their future husbands to enter and eat.

SIX INJURED WHEN AUTO TURNED TURTLE

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., June 29.—Six women were injured, four of them seriously, when an automobile owned and driven by Alston H. Garside, of Brookline, Mass., turned turtle on Lafayette road in this city last night after skidding and crashing into a stone wall.

The most seriously hurt are Anna L. Haggerty, Newton, Mass., internally injured; Helen L. Foster, Cambridge, Mass., and Dorothea Brown, Needham Heights, Mass., fractured collarbone, and Julia Curran, Everett, Mass., severe cuts and bruises. They are at the Portsmouth hospital. Mrs. Garside, wife of the driver and another woman whose name could not be learned were slightly injured and treated at the hospital, but were allowed to leave later. Garside was uninjured.

Garside said he had turned out to allow a car to pass and his automobile began to skid. All in the car were pinned beneath it when it turned over. They were rescued by drivers of a passing truck.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

THE STRAND
Corinne Griffith in "Island Wives" is a spectacular production of the South Seas. Elsa Melton, the principal character, becomes burdened with the life in the South Sea Islands, and craves for the city, stylish clothes and modern life. A tropical storm brings about a realization of her dreams and then events of a most startling nature develop. This picture is different from anything presented previously, and includes some of the most picturesque scenic effects ever portended.

Charles (Buck) Jones in "Riding With Death" is another of those vigorous western stories in which the star and a supporting cast give an interesting demonstration of western life.

The comedy offering shows Buster Keaton in one of his most entertaining comedies, called "The Paleface." It has more laughs to it than most of his former successes. Besides providing a great picture program, the Strand offers a place where cool, comforting and healthful conditions prevail at all times.

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE

The best man was Mr. George Pelton of Springfield. After an extended honeymoon trip to the Adirondacks, Lake George and the White Mountains, the couple will make their home at 241 Liberty street.

WOMEN FOLK ARE RUNNING, TOO

By N.E.A. Service

FORT WORTH, Tex., June 24.—A husband and his wife, a brother and his sister are in the race for seats in congress from the state of Texas.

Mr. and Mrs. James E. Ferguson seek to represent the Lone Star commonwealth in the United States senate. Thomas L. and Miss Anne Webb Blanton want seats in the lower house at Washington.

There is this difference—only one of the Fergusons can win; both of the Blantons may do so.

At present the quartet are candidates in the democratic state primaries. "Farmer Jim" Ferguson was governor, but lost the office through impeachment proceedings. Nevertheless he has strength, especially among the farmers. Also he favors a referendum on the question of exempting beer from the prohibition law. But he holds the democratic organization in 1920, to become American party presidential candidate. For this reason he feared the state committee would refuse to put his name on the primary ticket for the senate. He solved the problem by inducing his wife to become a candidate, too. Her name can't be kept off the ticket. Her husband reasons that the name "Ferguson" will attract ballots, whether there's a "Mr." or "Mrs." in front of it.

ESCAPES FROM BANDIT CAPTORS

A. Bruce Bielaski Flees From Kidnappers and Reaches Mexico City

Eluded His Captors Before $40,000 for Ransom Was Paid, Says Banker

MEXICO CITY, June 28.—(By Associated Press)—Escaping from his bandit kidnappers after four days of captivity, A. Bruce Bielaski, former head of the American department of justice's investigation bureau, has returned to Mexico City.

Covered with dust, unshaven and showing plainly the marks of his imprisonment in the mountains of Morelos, Bielaski was taken to his apartment, where his wife and half a dozen intimate friends greeted him.

His friends declared the former American official had escaped from his captors at Tecuac, walking the thirty miles to Cuernavaca, near which he was captured last Sunday while motoring.

Julius Lacand, head of the Mexican City banking firm which is understood to have furnished the $40,000 for the ransom on the order of Mr. Blanton, said he had been authorized to state that Bielaski eluded his captors before the money was paid. Bielaski suffered no more ill-effects than might be expected from four days of "roughing it" in the mountains.

Press despatches from Tampico quoted W. F. Taylor, manager of the Tampico branch of the Cortez Oil Co., as confirming the capture of 40 employees at the company's Aguada camp by the bandit Gorozave, but do not state whether the ransom has been paid.

were drunk. He also says there was a big dent in the rear of the gasoline tank of the alleged death car, such as might have resulted from a crash with another machine.

Number Theory Abandoned

Not much significance is being placed in the fact that a little girl named the number of the suite in the hotel at the roadside near the arrival of the officers. Chief Atkinson of the local police points to the fact that if the registration theory could be accepted, it would be an easy matter to arrest the owner of the car, or at least corner him and draw from him a satisfactory explanation of the whereabouts of his car on Tuesday night.

Upon hearing the stories of several other partial witnesses to the accident, Registrar Goodwin, Chief Livingston and his head of the Lexington and Bedford departments got together. The Bedford chief said this morning that he was awaiting only a few more strands of evidence before making an arrest in the case. He gave the name of a Lexington man when he thought could clear up the mystery.

As far as the local end is concerned, the criminal department has run down a number of clues. Chief Atkinson said that the local department had no more jurisdiction over the case than if the accident happened in Boston, but that his men were doing all in their power to aid the other police departments in bringing the guilty to justice.

Shortly after the accident happened the local department was notified and it was strongly suspected the much-wanted men were Lowell residents. This suspicion was arrived at owing to the fact that the two men were described by a local description of the racer were named by Lowell people.

One by one these people were rounded up by the department and questioned regarding their whereabouts on Tuesday night. All gave satisfactory explanations. The police received nothing in this morning and are busy running it down.

The fact that Chief Livingston seems to be so sure of his ground tends to switch the guilt from the shoulders of Lowell people to those of Lexington.

The Deaconess hospital in Concord, to which both Mr. and Mrs. Hardy were brought following the accident, reported today that the couple had been transferred to a Boston hospital. Following the accident Mrs. Hardy was reported to have sustained a fracture of the skull in addition to a number of cuts and bruises. Mr. Hardy was not reported as seriously injured, following the accident, but a later examination of his condition necessitated hospital treatment.

the proper man for superintendent," said the mayor. "He is an expensive legacy being carried by the city. The street department has been finely managed during the past three months by the city engineer and Mr. Garrity and I will not allow the department to be disrupted."

"I feel that it is my duty as mayor," continued His Honor, "to stop in and investigate any department that, to me, does not seem to be going along as it should and I certainly shall do this in the street department if the present system of management is continued."

"I think the people of Lowell realize the excellent work that has been done on the streets by Kearney and Garrity, and I do not believe that they approve of any different policy. I don't approve it, nor will I stand for it."

The mayor also said that he does not favor the board's action in deciding to use a street composition known as Amesite. "It did not meet with the approval of the city engineer," he commented, "and I think he is a competent man to judge the worth of paving material."

"Where is this Amesite?" asked the ment if the present system of management is continued.

The mayor did not say that he would take any action in regard to Doherty's removal at once and he stated that he would not attend the meeting of the board of to be held at 4 p. m.

Potter Gets Report on Liquor Check Up

BOSTON, June 29.—Prohibition Director Elmer C. Potter today received a report from federal agents who have been checking up liquor in the Bay State Warehouse in Springfield, following reports that liquor in 20 barrels had either been drawn off or diluted. Mr. Potter refused to make known how much, if any, seized liquor had disappeared, and said he would turn the report over to United States District Attorney Robert O. Harris.

HELD FOR ASSASSINATION ANNUAL OUTING AT WILLOW DALE

Driver of Motor Car Which Carried Slayers of Dr. Rathenau Arrested

BERLIN, June 25.—(By the Associated Press.) The driver of the motor car which carried the murderers of Dr. Walter Rathenau when the German foreign minister was assassinated last Saturday, has been arrested near Frankfurt-on-the-Oder, 50 miles from Berlin, the police announced today. The owner of the car also has been apprehended.

Report Confirmed
FRANKFURT-ON-ODER, Germany, June 25.—(By the Associated Press.) Ernst Werner Troschke of Berlin, a student, 21 years of age, who the police declare was the driver of the murder car in the assassination of Foreign Minister Rathenau last Saturday, was arrested in the vicinity of this city today.

The man named Fischer, alias Vogel, a Saxon, and Knauer, alias Koener or Kern of Mecklenburg, alleged to be the other members of the murder party, have not yet been apprehended.

All the accused men are declared by the authorities to be members of the monarchist organization "Coast" and former members of the notorious Ehrhardt brigade.

About 200 children of the Sunday school class of the Pawtucketville Congregational church together with several children of the Ayer Home left Lowell in special cars this morning on route to Willow Dale where the annual outing was held. The party was in charge of Mr. W. C. Bartlett and Rev. A. G. Lyon, pastor of the church, and the committee on sports consisted of the following: Girls' sports, Francis Graves, Viola Hawker and Mary Varney; boys, Herbert Vane, Leonard Fish and Maxwell Eddison. The usual outing program of games and sports was carried out and prizes awarded to the winners.

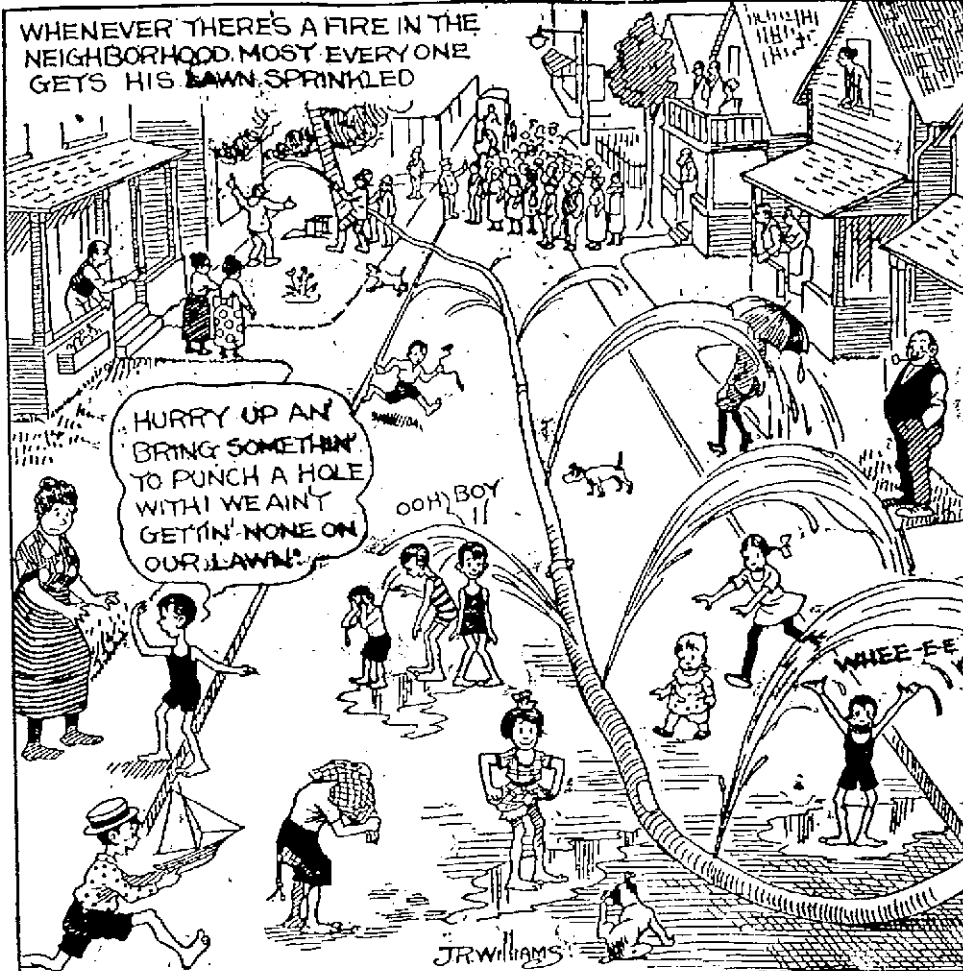

O'Connor Rejects Fresh Terms

Courts were still holding out and that other insurgents, including members of the communistic element of Irish labor, were being besieged in a number of hotels and other buildings they had commandeered in the heart of the city.

It was estimated that the casualties were 15 dead and about 100 wounded, many of these being non-combatants, victims of snipers.

Field guns and machine guns continued to be employed in the siege of the Four Courts, from which the return fire of the garrison grew feeble.

More than 200 shells so far have been fired at the huge building, which is proving to be a veritable stronghold. High explosive projectiles have pierced its walls time and again, and great volumes of smoke have issued from the dome and the gaping holes in the roof, but O'Connor's men have been successful so far in checking the fire.

Battle Continues

DUBLIN, June 25. (By Associated Press.) Rory O'Connor's band of insurgent Irish republican army men still was holding out in its Four Courts stronghold at noon today, against the continuing attempt of the Free State troops to dislodge it.

Casualties Heavy

Firing was in progress all the forenoon and there was an especially heavy burst of fire at 11 o'clock. Sniping operations were almost incessant, with the casualties estimated this forenoon at more than 50, being hourly added to.

The insurgents have extended their operations in other parts of the city. Shortly before noon, an ambush of Free State troops was reported from College Green, and the irregulars were fortifying various outposts. A party of Free State forces on the watch for insurgent activities poured a volley into a public house in the vicinity of yesterday's ambush.

Snipers Active

One of the outlying places seized by the irregulars was the Sackville street club. In addition to the various organized operations of the insurgents, their sympathizers in several parts of the city, acting as snipers, made many attacks on Free State soldiers.

Meanwhile, the replies from O'Connor's men to the firing of the Four Courts were feeble. The garrison, which is believed to number about 150, is said, however, to have unlimited supplies of ammunition and plenty of provisions.

The prospect was that the operations at the Four Courts would increasingly assume the character of an investment. The building lends itself peculiarly to defensive purposes, and it is considered unlikely that the Free State troops will, at least for the present, attempt to take it by assault.

Guerrilla Warfare

The most menacing feature of the situation from the provisional government standpoint is the fact that the insurgents are developing activities along guerrilla lines, particularly in the form of ambushes. Many of the insurgents wear no uniforms, and the Free State soldiers are exposed to attack while traversing narrow streets.

The prevalence of these tactics makes it seem improbable to the government side that the situation throughout the city will speedily become much better.

In other parts of the country the provisional government also has military affairs on its hands. In Drogheda the insurgents, who are occupying a fort commanding the town have been investigated by the Free State troops in the same way as at the Four Courts in Dublin.

The Drogheda position of the irregulars is regarded as unusually strong. From other parts of Ireland, there are many rumors of insurgent action, but the reports are difficult of confirmation.

Both sides have been active in the issuance of manifestoes, three statements having been given out by the government within 24 hours, while both Rory O'Connor and Eamon de Valera have made appeals to the people for support.

Passenger Trains Barred

DUBLIN, June 25. (By Associated Press.) The provisional free state government has ordered that no passenger trains shall enter Dublin. Freight trains will be uninterrupted and passengers may leave the city, but no influx from the country will be permitted. This seems to point to apprehension that Rory O'Connor's forces might be supplemented by the arrival of followers from the provinces, in some parts of which the irregular army has a strong support.

The followers of Eamon de Valera attribute the resumption of hostilities to Colonel Secretary Churchill's speech in the house of commons and to pressure from London, but the government insists that its action was contemplated and was postponed only until the result of the elections was known and the refusal of the republicans to accept it became manifest.

It seems certain that there has been an irreparable split. The republicans are expressing doubt whether the newly elected parliament can meet on Saturday and declare their intention of absenting themselves.

Coup by Free Staters

RELFAST, June 25. (By Associated Press.)—Free state troops yesterday carried out a coup on the main Dublin road beyond Drogheda, capturing three of the principal officers of the Dundalk irregular troops. Commandants P. J. McKenna, Michael Donnelly and John McGuire.

The three captives were taken to Drogheda where considerable tension prevails.

Two Free State Officers Killed

RELFAST, June 25. (By Associated Press.)—Col. Commandant Mandeville and Staff Captain Vaughan of the Free State forces, who were shot, died of their wounds, says a message from Dublin.

De Valera Not Active

LONDON, June 25. (By Associated Press.)—Eamon de Valera, the republican political leader, is not reported to have taken any public action in connection with the Dublin conflict but has repeated his known views in favor of Rory O'Connor's forces, whom he regards as the sole defenders of Irish liberty; the Free Staters, to his view, are acting under British compulsion.

It seems increasingly improbable that Mr. de Valera and his supporters will take any part in the government under the treaty and that the proposed coalition administration never will come into existence.

Michael Collins, head of the provisional government, in an interview in the Daily Mail said in effect that four seats in the cabinet would go to de Valera's followers but that they would have to sign an acceptance of the treaty if they took the seats. The Mail's correspondent adds that it is altogether unlikely that they would do this.

Milton Carlson, authority on disputed documents, examines an "Hawaiian Missionary" stamp of two-cent denomination. If genuine, it is worth $20,000. John A. Klemann, New York dealer who says he bought 43 of them, is suing a Los Angeles dealer, alleging the government pronounced them forgeries.

PELLETIER RESIGNS NO. DAKOTA PRIMARY

Gives Up Office of Supreme Advocate of Knights of Columbus

NEW HAVEN, Conn., June 29.—Joseph C. Pelletier, former district attorney in Boston, has resigned as supreme advocate of the Knights of Columbus. It was announced at K. of C. headquarters today.

Mr. Pelletier in a letter to Supreme Knight James A. Flaherty asked that the resignation take effect at once. He leaves the office after 15 years' service, during which he was honored by the Holy See and the French and Italian governments.

Mr. Pelletier, who was removed as district attorney by the Massachusetts supreme court on charges of malfeasance and nonfeasance in office, said in his letter of resignation: "I contemplated resigning some time ago, but when my enemies outside the order commenced a propaganda with-in it to force trouble, I decided to wait and watch developments."

"Now that the entire order, through its state jurisdiction, has had a chance to pass upon the question, with the result that only a mere handful has succumbed to this hostile propaganda, I have decided to act, and in so doing to express my deepest appreciation of the loyalty and membership of the order to me."

Mr. Pelletier will stay in office for a few days in an effort to clear some of the details of his work which have not been completed. He said he would be glad to help his successor get acquainted with the work, but otherwise wished to sever his connections as soon as possible.

Not at Home

BOSTON, June 29.—Joseph C. Pelletier, whose resignation as supreme advocate of the Knights of Columbus was announced at New Haven, was not in this city today. Officials of the state branch of the order said Mr. Pelletier left Boston yesterday but that they did not know his destination.

Mr. Pelletier was removed as district attorney of Suffolk county by the Massachusetts supreme court last February after an extended hearing on charges of extortion and misconduct in office, preferred by Attorney General J. Weston Allen. Pelletier offered no defense at the hearing of the charges; nor did he contest the disbarment proceedings recently brought against him in the court and he was subsequently disbanded.

In answer to a petition filed by the United States district attorney here, seeking to disbar him from the federal district court, Pelletier denied categorically the allegations contained in the petition, which were based on the decision of the Massachusetts court in disbanding him from state practice. The federal court petition is still pending.

MASS. A SICKLY STATE

500,000 Pints of Liquor Used
"for Medicinal Purposes"
in Past Year

BOSTON, June 29.—Liquor is altogether too popular as a medicine, said Prohibition Director Elmer C. Potter in announcing yesterday that about 500,000 pints of it were dispensed "for medicinal purposes" during 1921 in Massachusetts.

"This is about one pint to every eight persons in the state," he said, "which is a fair proportion, but considerably more than was necessary for medicinal purposes, probably."

Under present regulations, each physician is limited to 100 prescriptions of a pint every three months, and there are nearly 4000 physicians in Massachusetts holding these permits to prescribe liquor. It was said that a large number of these physicians are using their blanks to the limit, but many, on the other hand, are using only a few of their allowances.

PRESENTED GOLD BADGE
At last evening's meeting of Clan Grant, O.S.C., Chairman Miller, who is soon to sail for Scotland, was presented a gold badge, the presentation being made by Past Chief Caddell. In the course of the meeting plans were perfected for the outing of the clan to be held at the Martin Luther grounds July 23, and routine business was transacted.

By 1917, at the latest, women will rule the world and men will do the housework and care for the children, according to the prophecy of a professor in the University of Southern California.

BOY DROWNED
IN HALE'S BROOK

Hale's brook claimed another victim yesterday afternoon when Norman P. Warner, aged eight years, son of Mr. and Mrs. John K. Warner, of 31 Hutchinson street, was drowned. The accident occurred in the rear of the Chalmers Street hospital, whither young Warner had gone with a number of companions to take a dip. Being unable to swim, the youngster went beyond his depth, sank and did not come to the surface again. The body was quickly recovered but all efforts at resuscitation proved futile. The body was removed to the rooms of Undertaker Geo. W. Healey by order of Medical Examiner Thomas B. Smith. He leaves, besides his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John S. Warner, four sisters, Evelyn B., Thelma, J. Maybelle E. and Marion L. Warner.

Reader Takes Newer Form of Iron—Feels Years Younger

"Six weeks ago I saw a special offer in the paper telling how thousands of people grow old in looks and energy long before they are really old in years, because, as examinations by physicians have shown, an enormous number of people do not have enough iron in their blood. I have been taking Nuxated Iron for two weeks; the results are simply astounding. The roses have come back to my lips and cheeks, and I can conscientiously say that I feel ten years younger."

The above is a typical hypothetical case showing the results that have been achieved by a great many people since we started this "satisfaction or money back" offer on Nuxated Iron. We will make you the same guarantee. If, after taking the two weeks' treatment of Nuxated Iron, you do not feel and look years younger, we will promptly refund your money.

to have quit in West Chicago, Ill., today waiting receipt of strike orders. It was said the men "deserted in droves" leaving many crossings unguarded. Mayor Edward J. McCabe of West Chicago, has sworn in a number of special policemen to guard railroad property.

Engineers Not to Quit

CLEVELAND, June 29.—(By Associated Press)—Engineers and trainmen, members of the railroad brotherhoods with headquarters in this city, will continue to perform their regular duties and will not take the places or do the work of any railroad employees on strike in connection with the strike of the shop crafts called for Saturday morning, chiefs of these brotherhoods advised the members of their organizations today. Warren S. Stone, president of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers and William G. Lee, president of the brotherhood of trainmen, issued instructions to this effect to all members of their organizations today. W. S. Carter, president of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen, was absent from the city today but it was expected officers at local headquarters would issue similar instructions to firemen.

Order Issued By Kline

CHICAGO, June 29.—(By Associated Press)—The first actual step toward a rail strike of railroad workers in protest against decisions of the United States Railroad Labor board was taken last night when J. W. Kline, president of the International Brotherhood of Blacksmiths, Drop Forgers and Helpers, sent a telegram to the members of his craft, numbered among the shop workers, authorizing a cessation of work at 10 a. m., Saturday, July 1, according to news stories published here today.

Workers in the Pullman shops were included in the orders. The impending walkout makes Saturday a momentous day in the railroad world. On that date the $400,000,000 cut in freight rates ordered by the Interstate Commerce commission becomes effective, simultaneously with a slash of $135,000,000 from the wages of railway workers ordered by the United States Railroad Labor board. The pay of the shopmen was cut $60,000,000.

Railroad officials anticipated news of further strike orders to Maintenance of Way Employees upon completion of the canvass of their strike vote at Detroit.

In spite of the impending walkout from the shops and the tracks, rail officials declared transportation would continue to move, because train service employees who constitute the "big four" brotherhoods, switchmen and telegraphers are not parties to controversies over wages and working rules.

The shopmen's strike is in protest against the wage reductions, the abolition of rules by the Railroad Labor board and the farming out of shop work to contractors. Maintenance of way men balloted solely on the wage reduction.

It was a coincidence that the Association of Railway Executives called a meeting here today, according to rail officials. The meeting, it was said, was called two weeks in advance of the ultimatum by B. M. Jewell, head of the shop unions for a conference principally on contracts with the American Railway Express Co.

The strike situation, however, made the meeting all the more important. Rejection of Jewell's ultimatum that the roads ignore the labor board's wage cut decisions and restore abolished rules governing working conditions, was certain. It was said, rail officials declaring that Jewell's conditions for averting a strike were "impossible."

On the other hand a conference between railroad executives and union leaders was declared possible, not so much in any hope of reaching an agreement but as a vehicle for carrying the disputes immediately to the labor board which saved the nation from a rail strike last October. By the formality of an announcement that the roads and unions could reach an agreement, the labor board, it was pointed out, could take jurisdiction as it did in the threatened strike of the "big four" brotherhoods last fall.

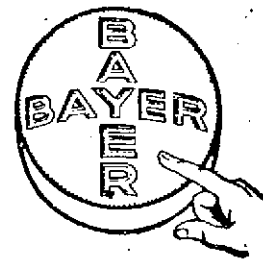

Tabulation of Vote

DETROIT, June 29 (by the Associated Press).—Tabulation of the national strike vote taken by the United Brotherhood of Maintenance of Way Employees and Railway Shop Laborers in protest against a wage cut scheduled July 1, continued at the general headquarters of the organization here today, with indications that more than half the 400,000 ballots believed to have been cast will be checked up by tonight. Throughout the count, officials say, it has been evident that the membership is overwhelmingly in favor of a strike, provided other unions join in.

How to Play Baseball

Many Points for Outfielders to Remember, Says Hooper

HARRY HOOPER

BY HARRY HOOPER
Outfielder, Chicago White Sox

Playing the outfield is an art which most any one can acquire by constant practice. To some it comes easy, to others only after hard and conscientious effort.

The first step in outfielding is to learn to properly catch a fly ball. To do this it is necessary to get a quick start. It is also necessary to acquire the art of catching a ball while running at full speed in or out or to either side.

In running after a fly ball the outfielder should always run on his toes, to be more correct, on the ball of his feet. If he allows the heel to strike the ground, the jar comes up to the spine to the eye and causes an optical illusion which makes the ball seem to come down in a zigzag course.

Watch the Wind

If you have a long run to make in order to reach a fly ball, run your fastest at the start, so that you can get an opportunity to time the ball and be running easily at the catch. Try to make every play look easy.

An outfielder must study the batters.

Knowing where a batter is likely to hit enables the fielder to play properly for him.

The fielder must also note the wind and take into consideration the effect it has on the course of the ball. It is necessary that the fielder always know how many are out and the score. These conditions have much to do with the proper handling of the ball. For instance, when your team is several runs ahead, it is not good judgment as a rule to try to throw a base-runner out at third or the plate, but instead get the ball into second and hold the batsman to a single.

Get Ball to Second

Ground balls should be played carefully except when there is a play to be made. Then you must be able to come in at all angles, scoop up the ball like an infielder and throw it while still in motion.

When the batter hits safely to the outfield, get the ball into second base as quickly as possible, particularly on fast men.

All long throws to the plate or any base should be bounced in on the hop. This also calls for much practice.

Pittsburg Successful Regardless of Star Catcher

WALTER SCHMIDT

BY BILLY EVANS
A high class veteran backstop is generally regarded as absolutely essential for a major league club that aspires to win a pennant.

Last year Walter Schmidt of the Pittsburgh club ranked first in the National league averages covering the outfielders.

Sometimes the averages do not tell the truth, but in Schmidt's case his ranking was regarded as well deserved. At the bat he hit close to .300.

This story is to be the tale of a major league club that seems to be doing very nicely without the aid of the star backstop.

Last winter Schmidt and the Pittsburgh club could not agree on salary. A star catcher is always much in demand, and perhaps Schmidt figured that if he failed to agree on terms he would be traded.

When stars differ with their clubs and hold out, things often happen that way, the player is traded to some club willing to satisfy the star.

Owner Dreyfus of the Pittsburgh club and Manager Gibson look a definite stand in the Schmidt matter, they stood pat.

As a result Schmidt is still out in the cold, while the Pittsburgh club is moving along very nicely.

Nothing to Pittsburgh

I rather thought the absence of Schmidt would seriously injure the chances of the Pirates. However, such doesn't seem to be the case. Pittsburgh goes merrily along winning a majority of games and always staying within striking distance of the league leading Giants.

The case of Schmidt and the Pittsburgh club is one of the few cases on record where the absence of a star catcher has not played havoc with the team's chances.

During the past month I have discussed the case of Schmidt with a number of star National league players, as well as several managers from that organization. All of them seem to hold the same opinion in the matter. The consensus of these I talked with runs about as follows:

"Schmidt is a great catcher. Any major league club could use him to advantage. Ordinarily, if the personnel would be severely felt, the personnel of the Pittsburgh pitching staff, however, is such, that the club is getting by very nicely without Schmidt."

"If the Pittsburgh pitchers were a lot of young fellows, with a tendency to be wild and always in need of experienced coaching, Schmidt would be greatly missed."

They Have the Pitchers

"Such, however, is not the case. Take such pitchers as Babe Adams, Cooper, Hamilton and Carlson and most any good mechanical catching would satisfy them."

"Those four veterans know how to pitch, have the control, and possess an inside knowledge of all the batters in the league, and the results of last year, Morrison and Glasner, have almost graduated into the veteran class."

"Gooch, who has been doing most of the catching, is a fine receiver and thrower. He lacks experience, but any thinking necessary is supplied by the veteran pitchers."

All of which struck me as a pretty good explanation of why Pittsburgh wasn't missing Schmidt.

LAWRENCE TEAM WANTS TO PLAY DAYLIGHTS

Sporting Editor:
Dear Sir—The Lawrence Independents would like to play the Highland Daylights, leaders of the Lowell Twilight League, in the near future.

The Lawrence Independents have one of the fastest teams in the state. It is made up of all local players and has defeated the Salem Town team, Dorchester B.D.C., St. Andrew's A.A. and St. Joseph's A.C., the latter three being members of the Boston Twilight League.

The Independents have lost to the Haverhill Pros, 2-0, with King Bader, former big league pitcher, against them, also the Malden K. of C. who beat them in the ninth inning.

We consider we have one of the best semi-pro clubs in the state, and are booked to play the Cleveland Giants (colored) Friday, June 30, and North Cambridge I.C.C. Saturday, July 1. Both of these games are to be played at Lawrence.

The North Cambridge K. of C. are the leaders of the Boston Twilight League.

Would like to hear from the manager of the Highland Daylights as soon as possible.

Yours in sport,
W. E. McDONOUGH, Mgr.
69 South Broadway, Lawrence, Mass.

GEORGE FOSTER COMES BACK AS INFIELDER

George Foster is back on the lot. Foster, the hero of the Boston Americans when they won their last world series.

GEORGE FOSTER

George quit the game after that memorable series because he couldn't agree on salary. He was then sold to the New York Yankees and again refused to report for the same reason.

He has been out of the game until about three weeks ago when he broke in as a shortstop with the Yankees, Okla. in the Western association and he has been going like a house on fire.

He is fielding and hitting in a most sensational manner, although his career so far has been brief, he has attracted the attention of the big league scouts.

ATTIA GIRL

Lorena Trickey, 22, of Oregon, twice winner of the McAlpin trophy at the rodeo at Cheyenne, Wyo., has applied for a license as a jockey on eastern race tracks. She's the right weight, 90 pounds.

According to an old belief, if the first burst brightly on Christmas morning it betokens prosperity during the year; if it smolders, adversity.

The 1922 baby costs nearly four times as much as his pre-war brother or sister.

97TH SHUTOUT BY JOHNSON

Washington Star Blanks New York in Pitching Duel With Waite Hoyt

Braves and Red Sox Win—Latter Move Out of Cellar—Collins Makes 4 Hits

NEW YORK, June 28.—Walter Johnson, "Smoke Ball" King, of the Washington Senators, will have no difficulty reaching the goal of 100 shutouts for his big league career at the pace he is now maintaining. He registered his third straight shutout of the season and the 97th of his 16 years' service in the majors when he blanked the Yankees, 1 to 0, in a thrilling duel with his youthful rival, Waite Hoyt.

Johnson had perfect control and added to his record as the shutout king of all time, by whitening nine of the New York team. His strike-out total at the end of last season was 237, eighteen more than the mark set by Cy Young as a performer in both the National and American leagues.

The St. Louis Browns took advantage of the chance to increase their lead by trouncing Cleveland, 2 to 0, after twice falling before the Indians, while the White Sox won their second straight game from the Chicago Cubs, 1 to 0, in a game which was a possession of third place. The Chicagoans are only a game behind the second place Yankees. The Cubs' season are handicapped by the absence of their star pitcher, Harry Holtzman, who has a wrenched shoulder.

The Boston Braves knocked a fuzzy fence out of the box and added their long losing streak by losing to Brooklyn, 5 to 2, while the Pirates climbed back to fourth place, after taking another from Chicago, 1 to 2.

John Collins, with four hits, led the Red Sox to victory over the Athletics, 4 to 1, and the Sox moved out of the cellar.

"MATTY" HURLS STRIKE

Fight for Life Won, "Big Six" Opens Season at Saranac Lake

SARANAC LAKE, N. Y., June 28.—"Big Six" Matty, the country over, for the first time since he came to Saranac Lake, more than two years ago, his life seemed to be in the hands of the doctors yesterday, wound up and tossed a perfect strike across the plate, while 2000 admirers cheered themselves hoarse.

Matty was awarded a demonstration from the moment he came onto the field until he had hurled the first ball of the season. The big something included friends of the great pitcher who had come up to see for themselves the fruits of the great fight against tuberculosis that Matty has waged and won. He looked well and gave no sign of having been through the recent illness.

After a procession, headed by a band, played on both teams that opened the season, local officials and fans, escorted Matty, his wife and family, Jr., piloting the car in which they rode to a point behind the home plate. Matty left the car and to the huge cheers of the crowd, walked slowly but firmly to the mound. On the ground he straightened to full height, raised the ball aloft, swung around and then pitched his shoulders—he had been sent in "cold."

As he tossed the ball to the catcher, the crowd roared and the huge cheers of the crowd, walked slowly to his car and driven slowly to centerfield, where he watched the game.

It was the opening of a small street, the heart of the best of business, but to the thousands of fans who have watched Matty's fight for health, it was the return of the diamond of our nation's greatest health baseball fans have ever known—a victory in a grim field with death.

PHIL NOT EDDIE O'DOWD KAYOED BY TREMAINE

It has been broadcasted throughout the country that Carl Tremaine put Eddie O'Dowd to sleep in quick time last Decoration day at Youngstown.

EDDIE O'DOWD

Get it straight, boys, get it straight. Eddie and Carl have never boxed. It was Phil O'Dowd who took the meat and not Eddie.

Phil O'Dowd is also a bantam and has been from the same town, so in all due respect to Eddie we must be impressed.

Eddie O'Dowd is the boy who battled Johnny Buff so gloriously last May. He is entirely innocent of ever suffering a knockout at the hands of Tremaine or any other boxer.

QUIMET FAVORITE IN GOLF TOURNAMENT

SALEM, June 28.—The first round of match play in the state amateur golf championship tournament began today on the Rockwood Country club course. Thirty-two golfers, representing 10 clubs, qualified yesterday.

Francis Quimet, former national and state amateur champion, medalist with a 113, was pitted against W. J. Quilman of Scarborough. Quilman's 165 yesterday placed him far down in the list of survivors of the medal play.

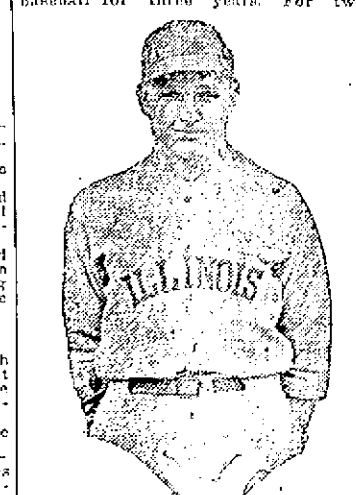

Quimet's wizardry in the qualifying rounds made him the favorite for the title play on Saturday. His 74 for the morning round bettered the course record for two strokes.

B. W. Estabrook of the Country club, second on the list with a qualifying score of 150, was matched today against R. R. Gordon of Brae Burn, who had a 161.

CROSSLEY WINS HIGH HONORS

Clarence P. Crossley of St. Louis has been awarded the conference medal for excellence in scholarship and athletics at the University of Illinois. This award is made to one graduating senior in each Big Ten institution.

Crossley, who received his degree in chemistry on June 11, played varsity baseball for three years. For two years he played in the outfield and this year he was moved to third base. Three years ago Crossley organized an independent basketball team, self-styled the "Yankees" in three years of intra-mural basketball this team of which Crossley was the organizer, coach, captain and one of the players, played better to games and won them all.

To the casual observer this may not mean much, but this year this same team entered the sectional independent amateur basketball tournament at Danville and emerged champions.

Although a chemist by education, Crossley has elected to enter the coaching profession. He will be athletic director of the Quincy high school next year.

OXFORD UNIVERSITY GIVES TAFT A DEGREE

OXFORD, Eng., June 29.—(By Associated Press)—William Howard Taft received the degree of Doctor of Civil Law from Oxford University yesterday for his contribution "to the friendship between England and America, and his distinguished services as a lawyer and a jurist."

The presentation occurred in the ancient Sheldonian Theatre, where for 500 years numbers of the world's greatest minds in science, literature, and medicine have received similar degrees. After the ceremony, Chief Justice Taft had luncheon with the vice-chancellor, the proctors and professors of the university.

There were cordial exchanges of felicitations between Chief Justice Taft and the public orator of the university, who conferred the degree.

In conferring the title upon Mr. Taft, the public orator said:

"This eminent lawyer has played a great part in the history of his country and the world. Even before his services were crowned and his sphere of activity enlarged by his election as president of the United States, he had made an eminent contribution to legal learning."

"He has now come to England to acquaint himself more fully with the working of the English judicial system, and his presence here is an indication of the friendship between England and America which he, himself, has fostered and which we all hope will ever endure."

Heavy applause from Oxford faculty, students and spectators greeted Mr. Taft when, gowned in flowing robes of crimson and blue, he acknowledged the degree with a gracious bow and with a brief word of thanks. The entire ceremony was in Latin.

Similar degrees were conferred upon Lord Chancellor Birenhead for "his services as head of the English judicial system and for his statesman-like qualities," and upon Cardinal Bourne for "his firm, impartial attitude in various times and his devotion to public order."

John Masefield, the author, and Menéndez Pidal, professor of philosophy at the University of Madrid, received degrees of doctor of letters.

Frank Cudworth Flint, a student from Seattle, Wash., won the chancellor's prize for the best English essay.

MONTHS OF SUFFERING

How a Baltimore Girl Recovered Her Health

Baltimore, Maryland.—"For several months I suffered with severe backache and general weakness. I could not sleep comfortably at night for pains in my back. I found your book at home one day and after reading it began at once to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I have had very good results and some of my girl friends are taking it now. You may use this letter to help other girls, as the letters in your book helped me."—ROSE WAINOR, 3018 Roseland Place, Baltimore, Md.

That is the thought so often expressed in letters recommending Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. These women know what they have suffered, they describe their symptoms and state how they were finally made well. Just plain statements, but they want other women to be helped.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is a medicine made from medicinal roots and herbs, and without drugs, to relieve the sickness women so often have, which is indicated by backache, weak feelings, nervousness, and no ambition to get anything done or to go anywhere. It has helped many women. Why not try it?

CLARENCE LOUD SEEKS PAY FOR TIME IN JAIL

BOSTON, June 29.—Clarence W. Loud, of Melrose, who was acquitted of the murder of Patrolman Preston of the Wakefield police last January in the East Cambridge court, filed a petition yesterday in that court seeking compensation for the time which he spent in jail over the six months' limit prescribed by Massachusetts law.

Preston was murdered on April 10, 1921. Loud was arrested on April 10, indicted on April 28, arraigned on May 13, put on trial on Jan. 3, 1922, and acquitted on Jan. 26. Thus he spent approximately four months in excess of the six months.

The petition was heard yesterday by Judge John P. Brown of the superior criminal court in the judge's lobby. He refused to make any comment other than to say that he had received the petition and had taken it under advisement. Loud was represented by Judge Malcolm P. Sturtevant of Somerville. The county was represented by Dist. Atty. Emil C. P. Saltonstall. He also refused to make any comment.

The petition is brought in accordance with Section 73, Chapter 277 of the General Laws of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, which says in part: "Any person in this Commonwealth kept in confinement awaiting trial for more than six months after having been indicted and finally acquitted may receive compensation for the period of confinement after the lapse of the said six months and until the period of his acquittal; provided that the payment of compensation is approved by the justice who presided at the trial or by a justice of the superior court sitting at a session for criminal business in and for the county where the indictment was found. Such compensation shall be equal to the amount which the indicted person earned or received from his regular employment for any period of equal length during the two years immediately preceding his confinement. The decision of the justice shall be final."

GROCERS PLAN TO REDUCE PRICES

CLEVELAND, June 29.—Funds for a five-year investigation of methods to reduce the retail grocers' operating and distributing costs and to bring down prices to the consumer were pledged by delegates to the annual convention of the National Association of Retail Grocers, in session here.

The inquiry, the delegates urged, should be pushed under the direction of the Harvard Bureau of Business Research, with the co-operation of the association. The Harvard Bureau recently completed a survey along similar lines.

The Young Mother.

THE ILLS OF INFANTS AND CHILDREN should be so well known to the youngest of mothers that a reminder or a repetition of the symptoms of illness seems unnecessary, yet there are some mothers who overlook a feverish condition, a little colic, or a disposition to be irritable. If not corrected they may lead to serious sickness. And to correct them, to bring Baby back to its happy self, is so easy by the use of Castoria—a medicine prepared just for infants and children. It will regulate the bowels (not force them), aid digestion and so bring quiet and rest.

Fletcher's Castoria has been doing this for over 30 years; regulating the stomach and bowels of infants and children. It has replaced the nauseating Castor Oil, so-called Soothing Syrups, poisonous Paregoric and other vicious concoctions in the homes of true and honest mothers—mothers who love their children.

Those mothers will give their babies foods and medicines especially prepared for infants and children.

Fletcher's CASTORIA

A Word About Truth.

"Great is Truth, and mighty above all things." So says the Old Testament, yet it is equally true to-day. Truth shows no favors, fears no enemies.

From the inception of Fletcher's Castoria, Truth has been the watchword, and to the conscientious adherence to this motto in the preparation of Fletcher's Castoria as well as in its advertising is due the secret of its popular demand.

All imitations, all substitutes, all just-as-good preparations lack the element of Truth, lack the righteousness of being, lack all semblance even in the words of those who would deceive.

And you! Mothers, mothers with the fate of the World in your hands, can you be deceived? Certainly not.

Fletcher's Castoria is prepared for Infants and Children. It is distinctly a remedy for the little ones. The BABY'S need for a medicine to take the place of Castor Oil, Paregoric and Soothing Syrups was the sole thought that led to its discovery. Never try to correct BABY'S troubles with a medicine that you would use for yourself.

MARKET CONGESTION BRIEF BUT IMPORTANT WIRE DESPATCHES

Boston Chamber Fears Increase in Prices of Fruits and Vegetables

BOSTON, June 28.—Unless a speedy readjustment of Boston marketing conditions is effected, the Boston chamber of commerce expresses in a report the fear that prices for fresh fruits and vegetables in this section will further increase.

Marketing transportation facilities now in use here, are the same as in operation when the city's population was 50,000, says the report, adding that "if New England's industrial position is to be maintained the cost of food to New England consumers must be made as reasonably low as possible."

A possible solution of the present market congestion is offered by the establishment of a central market accessible for water and rail shipments, points out the report.

MESSAGE FROM ROGERS

Congressman Replies to Letter From Lowell Coal Merchants' Association

In addition to a telegram received from Senator Henry Cabot Lodge on Monday, promising aid in the coal situation, Mr. E. A. Wilson, of the Lowell Coal Merchants' association, today received a letter from Congressman John Jacob Rogers, acknowledging receipt of his wife and also promising co-operation. Mr. Rogers' letter is as follows:

Washington, D. C., June 28, 1922.
Mr. E. A. Wilson, Lowell Coal Merchants' Association, Lowell, Mass.
Dear Mr. Wilson: I am duly in receipt of your telegram of the 28th inst., which I shall at once bring to the attention of the president. I assure you that I am quite aware of the urgency and importance of the situation with which the telegram deals.

Sincerely yours,
JOHN JACOB ROGERS.

Mr. Lodge's telegram of Monday also expressed agreement as to the coal situation, and his intention to take the matter up with the president upon the latter's return from his week-end vacation.

In commenting on the situation, Mr. Wilson said that he had sent the telegram to the two senators and the congressman from the district in the hope that others might join in the protest against the present status of affairs, and mentioned the situation in Illinois, incidentally. He feels that the coal situation is a serious one, and that there is certain to be a considerable delay in getting coal, and probably frequent mixups in transportation from the mines. Otherwise, the same situation which confronted the people in the big coal strike of 20 years ago is inevitable.

MOVE TO BLOCK DEBARRED PLAYERS

NEW YORK, June 28.—Local major league baseball officials today condemned the employment of former members of the Chicago American league team, debarré for connection with the 1919 world's series scandal by semi-professional clubs of the Metropolitan district.

President John A. Heydler of the National League said that he was astonished to learn that the banished players could find employment in the east, even on semi-professional teams. "I have not the slightest doubt," he said, "that their shift in the east will be short, once the fans spot them. The major leagues have no jurisdiction over such small town teams but the fan who pays to see these games is a keen lover of baseball and the clean reputation which is part of the game. Once they spot any of the debarré players I am sure that sentiment will prevent their further appearance on any eastern diamond."

NATURALIZATION COURT WILL TOUR BATTLEFIELDS

One Hundred and Eighty-one Men and Women Take Out Final Papers

From 10 o'clock this morning until late afternoon Justice Marcus Morton of the federal court, United States District Attorney Dodge of Boston, Clerk of Courts Ralph Smith and Court Officers Conway, Stevens, Gately and Rhodes were kept on the jump at the superior court in Garban street. The judge, attorney and clerks were kept busy examining applicants and swearing them in as full fledged citizens of the United States while the court officers had all they could do to hold back the crowd.

One hundred and eighty-one applicants including several women, each one accompanied by two witnesses took the court room by storm and no jostling and boisterous was the crowd that shortly before noon Justice Morton threatened to have everyone evicted from the court room unless the noise and confusion ceased at once. The courts threats were respected and then everything went along smoothly until the last candidate had sworn allegiance to Uncle Sam.

Ordinarily at naturalization court sessions the applicants and their witnesses remain in the hall or occupy seats in the court room and wait until their names are called, but this morning's session was an exception. The rule for the applicant citizens and their witnesses looked into the court room and crowded each other in an endeavor to secure a place in the front line. There were numerous women in the crowd, some as applicants and others as witnesses, but their sex was not respected, as they were jostled around like the men folk.

Applicants were examined individually and their witnesses questioned by the attorney and the court and as soon as fifteen of them had passed the test, they were sworn in a group by Clerk Smith. Then they were sent to the office of the clerk at the other end of the hall where they gave their final papers. Shortly before noon the crowd became impatient and there was a rush for the front line and it required the strength of the four stalwart court officers to hold them back. It was at this point that Justice Morton stood up and announced that naturalization court would not be held until the next morning. He would order the court officers to clear the court room. "There is no need of such looking," said the honor "for there is plenty of room for all of you will be looked after before court adjourns."

RESTLESS SETTER AWAITS CLAIMANT

Attempting to keep prisoner what is believed to be a valuable English setter dog, has given certain members of the police department more than a few sleepless nights. For three days past now the dog has been a prisoner in the station garage and on and off. Three times he has escaped from his keepers and this morning made his latest successful dash to liberty.

The police are not so much concerned over the dog as they are his actions when loose. It seems the animal has taken a fond liking to number 212 Lincoln street. He has disturbed the entire neighborhood for a week or more by sitting in front of the house in question at night and emitting real plaintive wails.

The residents of that section did not seem to mind the mid-afternoon serenades; they sort of liked them for they added a little color to otherwise dull days. But when night time came, and the hour for slumber approached, they did not longer want to enter in on such a noisy scene.

Accordingly the police took the dog in charge. He is a gentle animal and one with apparent unusual dog-like intelligence. He wears a silky white coat with black spots. For the reason that he is thought to be a valuable animal the police have committed the case to the kennel.

However, there is an end to police patience and unless the owner of the animal shows up within a few days, the dog may be dispatched to the happy hunting grounds via the gas route. According to police logic, human beings demand sufficient attention without lavishing too much of it upon a stray dog.

MEDALS FOR GOLD STAR MOTHERS

Five local jewelry manufacturers today submitted bids to furnish 150 gold medals for presentation by the city to Lowell's Gold Star mothers. The request called for a maximum expenditure of $2250 and specified that the quality of gold should be 14 karat, 12 pennyweight. A number of bids were submitted on 10 pennyweight gold of 10 karat, but only those which comply with the specifications will be considered.

Joseph M. Dineen bid $2156.67 for 150 medals. M. Schankman submitted eight bids ranging from $12.75 to $15.95 each. The Prince-Cotter Co. bid $15.50 per medal. J. J. Clubb bid $22 each for 14 karat gold and $22.50 for the 10 pennyweight gold. Frank B. B. bid $15.50 for 10 pennyweight gold and from $17 to $21 on 12 pennyweight, both of 14 karat.

Each jeweler submitted designs and samples with his bids. These will be examined by the mayor before the contract is awarded.

CHILDREN'S DAY AT COUNTRY CLUB
Despite threatening weather, the annual children's day at the Vesper Country club was held this afternoon with a fine program of entertainment. Flying horses were there for the children to enjoy and, although the grass was too damp for much general play out of doors, everything possible was done for their entertainment in the clubhouse. A splendid concert program was played by the club band. This evening the first of the Thursday night dances will be held, to be continued throughout the summer months.

J. Henry Collins to Visit Scenes of the Chief Battles in World War

Mr. J. Henry Collins, electrician, is soon to start on a trip to Europe, which will include a tour of the battlefields in France and Belgium, a visit to Mons, the historical Marne, Verdun, Chateau-Thierry, the Argonne, St. Mihiel and other celebrated battlefields of the world war. He will also visit Italy, taking in the historic features of Rome and other cities in that interesting country. On his homeward journey he will visit the British Isles and see some of the leading cities there. Part of his time will be devoted to an inspection of the electric devices used in the countries visited with a view to introducing some of the improvements manufactured in this country and for sale at his Dutton street store.

FINES FOR VIOLATION OF LIQUOR LAWS

Two fines for the violation of the liquor laws were collected in district court this morning with Judge Thomas J. Bourget on the bench. Both cases were old ones and had been continued from previous dates to today. George A. Smith, who was arrested some time ago and charged with both illegal keeping and illegal sale, pleaded guilty to the illegal sale and not guilty to illegal keeping. The court said that while he could be technically held on both charges he would dismiss the illegal keeping charge which was done. Smith was fined $150 for the illegal sale and paid.

Manuel Bettencourt also paid a fine for a liquor violation. He was arrested last Sunday night and charged with illegal keeping. Disposition of the case was continued until today when he pleaded guilty to the offense and paid a fine of $100.

Melvin L. Stone faced charges of being drunk and operating an auto while under the influence of liquor. His case was continued to Saturday. He was arrested yesterday in Dracont by a member of the state constabulary. The inability of the officer to present today caused the postponement of the case.

James P. McGrath pleaded guilty to a charge of drunkenness. His case was continued for 10 days. Joseph Milnes pleaded guilty to a like offense and his case was put over until tomorrow.

WILL ACCOMMODATE NAVY RECRUITERS

Beginning Monday, a portion of the chamber of commerce headquarters will be turned over to Chief Petty Officer McIntyre of the United States navy for recruiting purposes, the activities of the station to continue for about three weeks.

As no money is available from the government for recruiting purposes, the officers here naturally to the post-offices or federal buildings in various cities. At the local postoffice conditions are so crowded that it was impossible to give them the space required for examination and other details. Appeal was made to the chamber, and the secretary-manager gave the chief petty officer in command permission to use the rear section of the quarters.

The portion of the chamber rooms has been in constant use for purposes outside the organization for some time. During the recent "Sally" drive the downtown headquarters were established there, and now the Navy Scout campaign is reaching its close in the same location.

THE HIGH SCHOOL ALUMNI ASSOCIATION

The Lowell High School Alumni association will meet in the high school hall this evening at 8 o'clock. The most important business of this meeting will be the announcement of the drive committee for funds for the proposed high school stadium at Spaulding park. Both men and women are invited to attend. A committee headed by Bennett Silverblatt is now canvassing apartment houses for the purchase of a large section of the park land and the adjoining property known as the E. W. Conway estate. This committee will also make a report tonight.

LOWELL DRUGGISTS HOLD MEETING

The monthly meeting of the Lowell Druggists' association was held last night. The meeting was well attended and several suggestions offered for the conduct of the annual outing, which will be held at Wadsworth park on July 13.

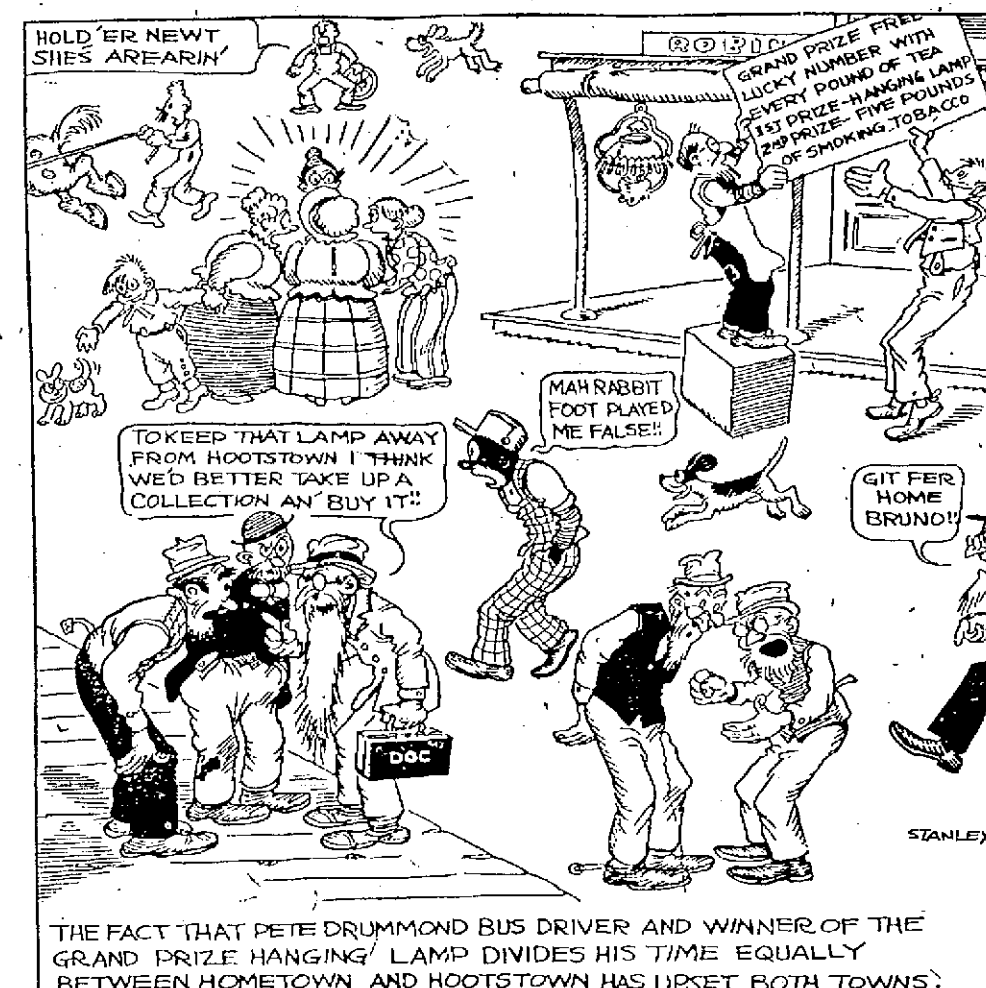

Drug stores will close at 5:30 on that day and the journey over the road will start at 10. A buffet lunch will be served on arrival at the park, after which the usual variety of sports will be carried out. Besides the local druggists several traveling men, representatives of various drug concerns, will make the trip. President W. H. Newman is chairman of the committee on arrangements.

RETAIL JEWELERS PLAN BIG OUTING

Last night in the chamber of commerce rooms there was a meeting of the Lowell Retail Jeweler's association. J. H. Abbott presided and a great routine business was transacted. The principal feature of the meeting was the discussion of plans for the annual summer outing of the group. The Lowell Retail Jeweler's association is a component part, and the association of Nashua, Concord, Haverhill, Lawrence and other cities have been notified of the results of the discussion.

Last year's outing was held at the Vesper Country club, with 125 or more retail jewelers, besides a large number of wholesalers and manufacturers present, and was voted a great success. It is hoped to make the 1922 affair even more enjoyable.

R. R. Labor Board Orders Inquiry Into "Threatened Interruption of Traffic"

CHICAGO, June 29.—(By Associated Press)—Strike orders signed by the six craft presidents of the railroad shopmen's organization were sent out today to general chairmen representing 400,000 men, authorizing a strike at 10 a. m., July 1 "on all railroads and Pullman shops in the United States."

Leaders Cited
CHICAGO, June 29 (By the Associated Press)—The United States railroad labor board cited the national officers of the six-shop craft unions, the railway executives now meeting here, and the officers of four other railroad unions to appear before the board tomorrow afternoon in an inquiry into the "threatened interruption of traffic."

In addition to the shopmen, whose strike order already has been issued, the four other unions cited now taking a strike vote are the clerks, maintenance of way men, stationery firemen and others and signal men.

B. M. Jewell, leader of the shopmen, today served formal notice on the railroad labor board that a strike call had been issued on all railroad and Pullman operating department local lodges of the six-shop crafts.

The meeting of the railway executives and heads of the 10 unions was set for 2 o'clock tomorrow by the labor board, when the formal notice of the strike call was received from the shopmen, announcing the time for the walkout on next Saturday at 10 a. m.

Mr. Jewell declared he personally would obey the citation to be issued by the labor board "only under protest" and that he could not speak for the six shop craft presidents until he had consulted them. Several of them are said to be on their way to their headquarters to direct strike operations.

Local and State Authorities Still Seek Occupants of Death Car

The occupants of the blue colored, boat-shaped racer, wanted by the Billerica police in connection with the death of a six months' old boy and the serious injury of his mother, the result of an auto crash Tuesday night, are still at large today despite the combined efforts of Lowell, Billerica, Bedford and Lexington police.

The newest developments in the case are: The shifting of suspicion from Lowell residents to those of Lexington; the entry into the case of Frank A. Goodwin, state registrar of motor vehicles; the expectation of an early arrest of Lexington parties; the running down of several clues in connection with Lowell people and the furnishing of a fresh clue to the local police which concerns a local auto owner.

According to Henry D. Livingston, chief of police in Billerica, the finger of suspicion points strongly to a Lexington man as the driver and owner of the car which is alleged to have crowded a Boston car from the highway and against a telephone pole which caused serious injury to Mrs. George Hardy of Summerville and the instant death of her six months' old son.

The searching inquiry of the combined police departments has brought forth many new stories and versions of the accident. One man came forward with the information that he did not see the actual crash but that he saw the blue racer speed away from the scene. He avers two of the occupants of the car, both young men, Continued to Page 6

Irregulars Still Hold Four Courts, Dublin, Despite Repeated Attempts of Free Staters to Dislodge Them—Water and Light Cut Off—15 Dead and 40 Wounded in Fighting—R. R. Station Near Limerick Attacked—More Than 200 Shells Fired at Four Courts Buildings—Walls Pierced

LONDON, June 29, 6.20 p. m.—(By Associated Press)—Fighting in the streets of Dublin is increasing in intensity, says a Central News despatch from the Irish capital at this hour. Irregulars on the outskirts of the beleaguered Four Courts district are receiving reinforcements, the message says. Three civilians were killed in today's fighting, bringing the total number of dead to 19. Business houses, the Central News correspondent says, as well as banks are closing, and the newspapers have suspended publication. Irregulars occupied the office of the Evening Herald for a time during the fighting today.

Panic Follows Attacks
BELFAST, June 29.—At 11 o'clock this morning, says a message from Dublin, the inhabitants of Dame street were thrown into a panic following an outbreak of firing from a building occupied by the insurgents. The street was full of people, who made a wild rush for shelter.

The fire was aimed at provisional government troops who were guarding the Bank of Ireland.

Japanese Privy Council Passes Pact Adopted at Washington Conference

Submitted to Prince Regent for Ratification, Without Amendment

TOKIO, June 29.—(By Associated Press)—The privy council passed the naval treaty adopted at the Washington art conference and submitted it today to the prince regent for ratification. The council's approval included the provision against poison gas and the clause restricting submarines. Viscount Ito, reporting for the council's investigating committee, said the committee found the ratio of ships apportioned to Japan disadvantageous to the empire and requested the government to use greater care in the future.

The committee of the privy council, however, found that the Japanese delegates at Washington were not at fault in failing to make better terms. From a spirit of respect for the Washington conference in its desire to maintain the world's peace, the committee recommended ratification without amendment.

STRIKE AT CAR SHOPS

Reported That B. & M. Car Shop Employees Will Strike Saturday Morning

It was reported today that the employees of the Boston & Maine car shops in Billerica have received word from union headquarters to go out on strike Saturday morning at 10 o'clock as a protest against the proposed reduction in wages recently ordered by the railroad labor board.

The report could not be verified at the shops, however, for officials of the federated crafts refused to discuss the matter. When the Sun man called up the shops by telephone at 2 o'clock, he was informed that he could not speak to any of the officials of the crafts because they were holding a private business session, but this was denied later by one of the officials, who further stated that all information concerning the doings of the employees of the car shops could be obtained only from general headquarters.

Mayor Threatened to Remove From Office the Three Members of Board of Public Service

Authorized Clerk in Engineer's Office to Tell Chairman Murphy That Board Would Be Ousted Unless it Met With Him on Wednesday Between 9 and 10 A. M.—Murphy Says "Impossible to Meet" and Has Heard No Further Word

Mayor George H. Brown may not have it in his mind today to remove the board of public service, or request the resignations of its three members, Messrs. Murphy, Bowers and Leary, but this seemed to be his intention Tuesday evening when he authorized Miss Mary A. Ordway, clerk of the office of the city engineer, to tell Dennis J. Murphy, chairman of the board, that Miss Ordway of the engineer's office called on the telephone, said Mr. Murphy: "She said that she was speaking for the mayor, who wanted the board to meet that evening. I told her that it would not be possible for me to call the three members together at such short notice. She then went to transmit this information to Mayor Brown. "Miss Ordway again called me on the 'phone," continued the chairman, "and said that the mayor wanted the board to meet him the very first thing in the morning—that would be yesterday. I then told Miss Ordway that I understood Mr. Brown wanted to be Continued to Page Three

The Merrimack mills will shut down Saturday noon and will not reopen again until Monday, July 10, at which time a new scale of wages for all the employees of the mill will go into effect. There were no notices posted in the mill and Agent Wadleigh stated this morning that he will not post any, but that the operatives have been notified individually of the shut-down and the readjustment of wages.

By a readjustment of wages it is meant that a reduction will go into effect, but just to what extent, could not be learned, for Agent Wadleigh refused to give any information on the subject. When questioned by The Sun reporter, he simply stated that the reduction will affect every employee of the mill. He also added that when the mill reopens those who are employed at present will be given full-time employment.

The Merrimack Mfg. Co. has been operating on short time for several months with about 50 per cent. of the employees. Some departments have been working four days and others five. The shut-down and the reduction, it is said, are due to the business depression.

When informed of Mr. Wadleigh's statement relative to a reduction in wages, John Hanley, chairman of strike committee, president of the Lowell Textile council and a member of the executive board of the United Textile Workers of America, stated that the mandate issued by the international body of the United Textile Workers of America last Feb. 13, calls for a strike in any mill where notices of a reduction in wages are posted, without going through the regular course of holding a special meeting and having a two-thirds vote to sanction a strike, and he said that mandate is still in force. When told that there were no notices posted, but that the operatives would be notified verbally, he questioned the legality of such action. "The law states," he said, "that the scale of wages for piece workers shall be posted in a conspicuous place in the mill, and there are numerous operatives in the Merrimack mills as well as in other cotton mills, who are being paid on a piece-work basis. If notices are not properly posted and the officials of the company attempt to cut down the wages, the matter may go to court." He concluded by saying, "We are not looking for trouble, but we will meet it if it comes."

As far as could be learned no other local mills have announced reductions in wages or curtailments with the exception of the Merrimack mills.

OUTING IN TYNGSBORO

Notre Dame Alumnae Association Holds Annual Outing at Tyngsboro

At the home of the Sisters of Notre Dame in Tyngsboro today the Notre Dame Alumnae association, with one of the largest gatherings ever assembled at a similar event, held its annual outing. In addition to the large number of Lowell members, greater by far than ever before, associates from Washington, D. C., Boston, Lawrence, Roxbury and other localities flocked to the grounds and were still arriving long after noon.

The alumnae began the day's program with prayer in the chapel. Thence they journeyed to the lawn, where the salute to the flag was carried out, followed by the rendition of the national anthem and other patriotic songs.

During the afternoon sports and games of wild variety held the attention of all who were present. Miss Shay was in charge of this section of the program and everything was run off without a hitch.

Later in the day, the members assembled for prayer at the exotic adjoined residence of the sisters. The basket luncheon, one of the day's essential features, was attended to assiduously.

The officers of the association, in whose care lay the arrangement of the program, are: President, Miss Annie J. Devine; vice president, Miss Rose Joyce; secretary, Miss Blanche Walsh; and treasurer, Mrs. Robert Sheehan of Lawrence.

STEAMER HIT ROCK IN FOG

The Providence, From New York to Fall River, Damaged Off Fort Wetherell

281 Passengers Taken Off and Landed at Newport, Rhode Island

NEWPORT, R. I., June 29.—The steamer Providence, bound from New York to Fall River, struck a ledge of rock off Fort Wetherell, early today. Her passengers were landed here at 8 o'clock this morning. No one was injured.

The Providence struck at 3 o'clock this morning in a dense fog at a point about two miles within the entrance to Narragansett Bay, where the shore is very rocky. She drove 100 feet onto the ledge. The tide was out.

Captain Hamlin assured the passengers there was no danger and then sent a call for help to this city, about a half-mile distant.

The steamer General, also of the New England Steamship Co.'s line, proceeded to the assistance of the Providence. The latter's passengers were taken off without difficulty and brought here, where arrangements were made to send them to Fall River by train. The Providence appeared badly damaged.

The steamer Pennoke stood by the Providence this morning while efforts were made to determine how badly the crippled vessel was damaged. The Providence carried 281 passengers.

When the steamer struck on the rocks at Old Fort Point at 2:45 this morning the 281 passengers were not unduly disturbed, being calm due to the efforts of Captain Hamlin and officers of the Providence. The shore was held and rocky with deep water just off the rocks. Had the Providence gone 100 feet to the east, it would have cleared.

Uses Radio to Call for Help
Captain Hamlin used the radio to get into touch with the New England Navigation Co.'s plant in Newport, and Warren T. Berry, superintendent of marine construction, was notified. He immediately made plans to have the steamer General of the Wickford line go to the Jamestown side of the bay to be of assistance to the Providence. No alarming reports came from the stranded liner but the need of immediate assistance in the fog was deemed advisable as there is no indication when the steamer will be cleared.

Upon reaching the Providence, the General found that it could easily go alongside due to the depth of the water. The passengers, 281 in number, were taken off safely. The General being assisted in the work by the fishing steamer Wilcox, which was nearby. The position of the Providence was such that some passengers landed on the Jamestown shore by using a ladder from the steamer to the ground, while, on the other side, the passengers were stepping into the General.

The passengers were brought to Newport by the General and a special train was waiting to take them to Fall River and Boston. On the way over the passengers took the incident as a lark, laughing and joking, with no evidence of excitement. One passenger stated that the crash reminded him of a boat bringing up sharply alongside a dock.

The passenger list of the Providence is not available, but it is understood that the majority of passengers were bound for Boston and the North Shore. They were able to secure their baggage and personal effects which they brought with them.

At present the tug Solitor from Newport and the fishing steamer Wilcox are standing by to be of whatever assistance they can. The extent of the damage to the Providence is still unknown and will not be ascertained until the steamer is cleared.

OUTING POSTPONED
The Sunday school outing of the Calvary Baptist church which was to have been held at Willow Dale today was postponed owing to the threatening weather. The affair will be held Saturday, special cars leaving Liberty and Featling streets at 10 a. m., returning at 6:30 in the evening.

Two European capitalists, Petrograd and Madrid, were built to order, the one by Peter the Great, the other by Philip II, who chose the lofty site because of the asthma from which he suffered.

Just a Love Nest, which consists of tapestry parlor suite, a library table, an art square and a floor lamp, is the feature of the day. The "nest" has been on display in the windows of the Cookin Co. on Prescott street and A. G. Bellard's on Merrimack street for the past month. Books have been circulated throughout the city and if the returns are in by tonight the drawing will take place.

Many other attractions are also on the program, making up an entertainment that is bound to provide enjoyment for young and old.

This afternoon was given over to the children and a large crowd made its way to the Casino to participate in the program. The big feature of this afternoon's program was an exceptionally good program of specialty dancing by the children of the parish. This was in charge of Miss Doris Conley, Lowell's highly talented artist. She arranged and directed the little ones over a period of several weeks and the remarkable manner in which they executed the many beautiful and intricate evolutions reflected great credit on teacher and pupils alike.

In addition to the dancing numbers a program of sports arranged by John H. Condon, was also on the afternoon's program. These events took place on the lawn adjoining the Casino and were run off with precision and despatch and resulted in many spirited contests.

Tonight the adults will hold forth. The dancing program will be repeated by Miss Conley. This will begin at 8 o'clock and will conclude at 9 o'clock. After which there will be general dancing until midnight. The accompanists for the dancing numbers are Miss Alice Fish and "At" Forrest, and their efforts play an important part in the success of the program.

A miniature mid-way, including doll stands, ice cream and candy and cake tables, wheels, etc., in charge of capable and energetic committees, is located on the grounds. All were all well patronized this afternoon and plans have been made to handle bigger crowds this evening.

The purpose of party this year is to augment and if possible to complete the fund being raised to complete the work of converting the lower part of the church into an attractive auditorium. To meet the ever-growing needs of the parish, increasing attendance, this lower auditorium is necessary as the upper church has become inadequate to accommodate the large numbers attending services there. Already remarkable progress has been made in the repair work, but much remains to be done. It is the policy of the pastor, Rev. Charles J. Galligan, to do the work on the "pay-as-you-go" plan, so that when it is finished no great debt will be confronting the parishioners.

ST. MARGARET'S PARISH

Annual Lawn Party at the Casino This Afternoon and Evening—Fine Program

After many weeks of careful preparation and enthusiastic endeavor, the day of the annual lawn party of St. Margaret's parish dawned today with everything in readiness for one of the most memorable events in the history of the parish's social activities.

Since the inception of the progressive parish in the Highlands the annual lawn parties have proven among the most successful and enjoyable events on the calendar. Each year a novel feature has been provided to add interest to the affair and augment the returns. Many have been the innovations introduced, but the one selected for this year's party is considered the most unique and most valuable ever provided in connection with the parties.

"Just a Love Nest," which consists of tapestry parlor suite, a library table, an art square and a floor lamp, is the feature of the day. The "nest" has been on display in the windows of the Cookin Co. on Prescott street and A. G. Bellard's on Merrimack street for the past month. The arrangements for today's party are under the general supervision of Rev. William P. Brennan who was enthusiastically and ably assisted by the pastor, Rev. Charles J. Galligan and Rev. Andrew F. O'Brien, and the various committees, composed of men and women of the parish.

The dancing program under the direction of Miss Doris Conley, which was given this afternoon and which will be repeated this evening, follows: Jungle Belle—Solo, Margaret Matthews; group of dancers, Mary Hogan, Mary Kelly, Eileen Shore, Barbara Dunlay, Helena Sherman, Rita Butterfield, Sarah Killmarlin, Barbara O'Brien, Frances Hamilton, Emily Correlle, Eileen Allen, Ruth Cheney, Rita Morrison.

Mayor Threatened to Remove Board of Public Service

out of town all day on Wednesday, that Mr. Leary had planned to be in Haverhill and that, too, was obliged to go to Boston on law business. She replied that the mayor was most insistent that the board meet.

"I then told Miss Ordway that I would get in touch with Mr. Bowers and Mr. Leary and see if there was a chance of holding a meeting of the board Wednesday. Mr. Bowers told me that it would be absolutely impossible for him to remain in the city Wednesday and Mr. Leary said that it was necessary for him to be in Haverhill."

"After I had given this information to Miss Ordway," Mr. Murphy went on, "she told me that the mayor had authorized her to say that unless we met with him in his office between 8 and 10 o'clock Wednesday morning, he would remove us. I said that he could do that, if he wanted to, but that it would not be possible for the board members to meet him."

"I have not heard from the mayor or from anyone authorized to speak for him since that time," said the chairman, "although I understand that he called in City Messenger Monahan to prepare notices of removal to be served on us and afterwards had the notices destroyed or nullified in some way."

The board meets today at 4 p. m. and it is not known whether or not the mayor will attend. Mr. Murphy said this morning that he understood that he had planned to meet with them, but did not know definitely.

Mr. Murphy, in discussing the action of the board in making Supt. Doherty the man responsible for the work in the street department, said that no change whatsoever has been made and that the work is being carried on strictly in accordance with the words of the charter.

"The charter says that the board of public service constitutes the executive head of the street department," said Mr. Murphy. "The city engineer, Mr. Kearney, as secretary of the board, is directly subordinate to us. Under him is the superintendent of streets. The engineer is supposed to lay out and plan the work and Mr. Doherty is supposed to see that it is properly done. Under him is the assistant superintendent of streets and the foreman."

"The charter is very clear in this matter and there can be no doubt as to the status of either Supt. Doherty or Supt. Gardner of the water department," said Mr. Murphy in conclusion.

Indigestion After Attack of Grip

"I suffered with stomach trouble for about six months and think it was due to an attack of the grip which left me in a greatly run down condition," says Mrs. Corrie West, of No. 64 South May avenue, Columbus, Ohio.

"After eating a meal the food did not digest but would lie in my stomach and become sour. I was constantly belching gas and had intense pains after eating. There were also severe pains in my left side and under my left shoulder. I grew very nervous and irritable and oftentimes it seemed as though my nerves were all in a quiver. The nervousness affected my head. I had frequent dizzy spells and would not get a good night's rest for a week at a time."

"My mother started me using Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for they had helped her. After taking them a short time I felt much better and continued until I was well. I feel that it is my duty to recommend Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for I think there is no medicine like them."

REGENERATIVE RECEIVER WITH TWO-SLIDE TUNER

BY PAUL F. GODLEY
America's Foremost Radio Authority
All the thrills which go with owning and operating a regenerative receiver may be experienced at very little expense.

The diagram shows a method of connecting a conventional type of double-slide tuning coil with a vacuum tube and its batteries in such a way as to give access to a fairly broad band of waves while providing an extremely simple means of securing regenerative amplification.

With this arrangement the vacuum

tube may be put through its paces in the same way as though an expensive set were used. In the specially designed receivers of this type more complete control is provided, of course, but the actions and effects are identical in either case.

Six-tenths of the way from one end of the tuning coil take off a tap from one of the wires at a point where the connection will not interfere with the operation of the sliders. Connect the tuning coil as shown in circuit. Set slider "B" on the wire from which the tap was taken.

Tune for incoming signals by variation of slider "A."

When signal is tuned in, advance slider "B" toward the free end of the coil. Amplification will commence and reach an apparent maximum. Still greater strength of signals is to be had, however, by a final simultaneous adjustment of both "A" and "B."

This circuit may be improved upon by the addition of a variable condenser in the wire which leads to the antenna.

When slider "B" is carried forward too far the system will begin to act as a generator of oscillations. When in this condition, distant radio phone stations may be located by their "whistles."

THE HORRORS OF INDIGESTION

Relieved By "Fruit-a-tives"
The Famous Fruit Medicine

Indigestion, Weak Digestion or partial digestion of food, is one of the most serious of present-day complaints.

Those who suffer with indigestion, almost invariably are troubled with Rheumatism, Sleeplessness and excessive Nervousness.

"Fruit-a-tives" will always relieve indigestion because these tablets strengthen the stomach muscles, increase the flow of digestive juices and correct constipation, which usually accompanies indigestion.

Miss McAvoy and Hughes

"Sentimental Tommy" was a great photoplay because of the direction of John S. Robertson and because of the fine acting of Gareth Hughes and May McAvoy.

Great things were expected of these two young players after that film. But neither since has appeared in a worthwhile picture. They have not fitted the characters assigned them to enact.

Many of the current movies could be improved if producers did not seek to fit square pegs into round holes, thus wasting the ability of such players as Hughes and Miss McAvoy.

Wigs

Fewer screen actresses have lovelier tresses than May McAvoy. That may be the reason it is covered with a blonde wig that is plainly a wig throughout "The Top of New York."

For no apparent reason artificial loveliness is substituted for natural loveliness. Dorothy Dalton is another actress who has achieved the same disappointing effect with a wig in recent pictures.

What Mary Thinks

Mary Pickford says the personal appearance of stars will become less popular with each succeeding season and the general public will be just as pleased to see the idea pass into permanent discard. Why succeeding seasons, Mary? This one ought to be the last for personal appearances.

Value of An Actor

Hal Cooley started in the movies because he needed the money. There's no doubt about that. His debut was at the Bell studio in support of a big lion. When Cooley entered the cage he asked the brute's trainer if he had a gun ready in case the lion became suddenly hungry. "Hell, no," the trainer shouted. "That lion is worth more than any actor that ever lived."

An old custom was for unmarried girls to fast on Midsummer Day, lay a meal on the table at midnight, leave the door open, and wait for their future husbands to enter and eat.

Easy For Thin People to Put

On Flesh and Gain Weight

In one month's time EVANS' TRIPLE PHOSPHATES puts on several pounds of solid red blooded flesh and changes your weak, run-down, nervous tired body into a strong, vigorous, robust one or money back.

Of course medical men are surprised and many are still unbelievers, but the fact is evident to every up-to-date pharmacist that Evans' Triple Phosphates will produce flesh without laxative methods, face creams, daily massage or beauty torture.

In order to assimilate the nourishing food thin people take into the body and turn it into healthy red blood corpuscles, the nerves that control the process of digestion and assimilation must be in first-class shape, and until that is done you might just as well quit trying to put on flesh.

Your system is starving for something that will turn the food you eat into healthy, stay-there flesh. And it can only be done in one way—by correcting faulty, nervous digestion. One month's treatment is guaranteed to increase your weight at least several pounds, and in ten days make you feel like a new being, full of ambition, vigor and a desire to accomplish things. Fred Howard and all good druggists have agreed to supply Evans' Triple Phosphates and guarantee it to do just what is claimed for it, or money refunded.

Even though Evans' Triple Phosphates works wonders in all cases of nervous digestive and blood troubles, don't take it unless you really desire to put on flesh and gain weight.—Ad.

SIX INJURED WHEN AUTO TURNED TURTLE

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., June 28.—Six women were injured, four of them seriously, when an automobile owned and driven by Alston H. Garstide, of Brookline, Mass., turned turtle on Lafayette road in this city last night after skidding and crashing into a stone wall.

The most seriously hurt are Anna L. Haggerty, Newton, Mass., internally injured; Helen L. Foster, Cambridge, Mass., and Dorothy Brown, Needham Heights, Mass., fractured collarbone; and Julia Curran, Everett, Mass., severe cuts and bruises. They are at the Portsmouth hospital. Mrs. Garstide, wife of the driver and another woman whose name could not be learned were slightly injured and treated at the hospital, but were allowed to leave later. Garstide was uninjured.

Garstide said he had turned out to allow a car to pass and his automobile began to skid. All in the car were pinned beneath it when it turned over. They were rescued by drivers of a passing truck.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

THE STRAND
Corlaine Griffith in "Island Wives," is a spectacular production of the South Seas. Elma Melton, the principal character, becomes burdened with the life in the South Seas. Islands, and craves for the city, stylish clothes and modern life. A tropical storm brings about a realization of her dreams and then events of a most startling nature develop. This picture is different from anything presented previously, and includes some of the most picturesque scenic effects ever portrayed. Charles (Buck) Jones in "Hiding With Death," is another of those vigorous western stories in which the star and a supporting cast give an interesting demonstration of western life.

The comedy offering shows Buster Keaton in one of his most entertaining comedies, called "The Police." It has more laughs to it than most of his former successes. Besides providing a great picture program, the Strand offers a place where cool, comfortable and healthful conditions prevail at all times.

WOMEN FOLK ARE RUNNING, TOO

By N.E.A. Service

FORT WORTH, Tex., June 24.—A husband and his wife, a brother and his sister are in the race for seats in congress from the state of Texas.

Mr. and Mrs. James E. Ferguson seek to represent the Lone Star commonwealth in the United States senate. Thomas L. and Miss Annie Webb Blanton want seats in the lower house at Washington.

There is this difference—only one of the Fergusons can win; both of the Blantons may do so.

At present the quartet are candidates in the democratic state primaries.

"Farmer Jim" Ferguson was governor, but lost the office through impeachment proceedings. Nevertheless he has strength, especially among the farmers. Also he favors a referendum on the question of exempting beer and light wines from the prohibition ban. But he halted the democratic organization in 1920, to become American party presidential candidate. For this reason he feared the state committee would refuse to put his name on the primary ticket for the senate. He solved the problem by inducing his wife to become a candidate, too. Her name can't be kept off the ticket. Her husband reasons that the name "Ferguson" will attract voters, whether there's a "Mr." or "Mrs." in front of it.

ESCAPES FROM BANDIT CAPTORS

A. Bruce Bielaski Flees From Kidnappers and Reaches Mexico City

Eluded His Captors Before $10,000 for Ransom Was Paid, Says Banker

MEXICO CITY, June 28.—(By Associated Press)—Escaping from his bandit kidnappers after four days of captivity, A. Bruce Bielaski, former head of the American department of justice's investigation bureau, has returned to Mexico City.

Covered with dust, unshaven and showing plainly the marks of his imprisonment in the mountains of Morelos, Bielaski was taken to his apartment, where his wife and half a dozen intimate friends greeted him.

His friends declared the former American official had escaped from his captors at Toluca, walking the thirty miles to Cuernavaca, near which he was captured last Sunday while motoring.

Jules Lacaud, head of the Mexico City banking firm which is understood to have furnished the $10,000 for the ransom on the order of Mr. Bielaski's New York company, said he had been authorized to state that Bielaski eluded his captors before the money was paid. Bielaski suffered no more ill-effects than might be expected from four days of "roughing it" in the mountains.

Press despatches from Tampico quoted W. P. Taylor, manager of the Tampico branch of the Cortez Oil Co., as confirming the capture of 40 employees at the company's Aguada camp by the bandit Gorozave, but do not state whether the ransom has been paid.

were drunk. He also says there was a big dent in the rear of the gasoline tank of the alleged death car, such as might have resulted from a crash with another machine.

Number Theory Abandoned

Not much significance is being placed in the fact that a little girl saw the number of the auto in the dirt at the roadside pending the arrival of the officers. Chief Atkinson of the local police points to the fact that if the registration theory could be accepted, it would be an easy matter to arrest the owner of the car, or at least corner him and draw from him a satisfactory explanation of the whereabouts of his car on Tuesday night.

Upon hearing the stories of several other partial witnesses to the accident, Registrar Goodwin, Chief Livingston and the head of the Lexington and Bedford departments got together. The Bedford chief said this morning that he was adding only a few more streets of evidence before making an arrest in the case. He gave the name of a Lexington man whom he thought could clear up the mystery.

As far as the local end is concerned, the criminal department has run down a number of clues. Chief Atkinson said that the local department had no more jurisdiction over the case than if the accident happened in Boston, but that his men were doing all in their power to aid the other police departments in bringing the guilty to justice.

Shortly after the accident happened the local department was notified and it was strongly suspected the much-wanted men were Lowell residents. This suspicion was arrived at owing to the fact that two or three autos of a like description of the racer were owned by Lowell people.

One by one these people were rounded up by the department and questioned regarding their whereabouts on Tuesday night. All gave satisfactory explanations. The police received another tip this morning and are busy running it down.

The fact that Chief Livingston seems to be so sure of his ground tends to swing the odds from the shoulders of Lowell people to those of Lexington.

The Deaconess hospital in Concord, to which both Mr. and Mrs. Hardy were brought following the accident, reported today that the couple had been transferred to a Boston hospital. Following the accident Mrs. Hardy was reported to have sustained a fracture of the skull in addition to a number of cuts and bruises. Mr. Hardy was not reported as seriously injured, following the accident, but a later examination of his condition necessitated hospital treatment.

the proper man for superintendent," said the mayor. "He is an expensive legacy being carried by the city. The street department has been finely managed during the past three months by the city engineer and Mr. Garrity and I will not allow the department to be disrupted."

"I feel that it is my duty as mayor," continued His Honor, "to step in and investigate any department that, to me, does not seem to be going along as it should and I certainly shall do this in the street department if the present system of management is continued."

"I think the people of Lowell realize the excellent work that has been done on the streets by Kearney and Garrity, and I do not believe that they approve of any different policy. I don't approve it, nor will I stand for it."

The mayor also said that he does not favor the board's action in deciding to use a street composition known as Amiasite. "It did not meet with the approval of the city engineer," he commented, "and I think he is a competent man to judge the worth of paving material."

"Where is this amiasite?" asked the ment if the present system of management is continued.

The mayor did not say that he would take any action in regard to Doherty's removal at once and he stated that he would not attend the meeting of the board of to be held at 4 p. m.

great volumes of smoke have issued from the dome and the gaping holes in the roof, but O'Connor's men have been successful so far in checking the fire.

Battle Continues

DUBLIN, June 28. (By Associated Press.)—Rory O'Connor's band of insurgent Irish republican army men still was holding out in the Four Courts stronghold at noon today, against the continuing attempts of the Free State troops to dislodge it.

Casualties Heavy

Fighting was in progress all the forenoon and there was an especially heavy burst of fire at 11 o'clock. Shelling operations were almost incessant, with the casualties, estimated this forenoon at more than 50, being hourly added to.

The insurgents have extended their operations in other parts of the city. Shortly before noon, an ambush of Free State troops was reported from College Green, and the irregulars were fortifying various outposts. A party of Free State forces on the watch for insurgent activities poured a volley into a public house in the vicinity of yesterday's ambush.

Snipers Active

One of the outlying places seized by the irregulars was the Sackville street club. In addition to the various organized operations of the insurgents, their sympathizers in several parts of the city, acting as snipers, made many attacks on Free State soldiers.

Meanwhile the police from O'Connor's men to the firing on the Four Courts were feeble. The garrison, which is believed to number about 150, is said, however, to have unlimited supplies of ammunition and plenty of provisions.

The prospect was that the operations at the Four Courts would increasingly assume the character of an investment. The building lends itself peculiarly to defensive purposes, and it is considered unlikely that the Free State troops will, at least for the present, attempt to take it by assault.

Guerrilla Warfare

The most menacing feature of the situation from the provisional government standpoint is the fact that the insurgents are developing activities along guerrilla lines, particularly in the form of ambushes. Many of the insurgents wear no uniforms, and the Free State soldiers are exposed to attack while traversing narrow streets.

The prevalence of these tactics makes it seem improbable to the government side that the situation throughout the city will speedily become much better.

Fighting Spreads

In other parts of the country the provisional government also has military affairs on its hands. In Drogheda the insurgents, who are occupying a fort commanding the town have been invested by the Free State troops in the same way as at the Four Courts in Dublin. The Drogheda position of the irregulars is regarded as unusually strong.

From other parts of Ireland, there are many rumors of insurgent action, but the reports are difficult of confirmation. Both sides have been active in the issuance of manifestoes, three statements having been given out by the government within 24 hours, while both Rory O'Connor and Eamon de Valera have made appeals to the people for support.

Passenger Trains Barred
DUBLIN, June 28. (By Associated Press.) The provisional free state government has ordered that no passenger trains shall enter Dublin. Freight traffic will be uninterrupted and passengers may leave the city, but no influx from the country will be permitted. This seems to point to apprehension that Rory O'Connor's forces might be supplemented by the arrival of followers from the provinces, in some parts of which the irregular army has a strong support.

The followers of Eamon de Valera attribute the resumption of hostilities to Colonel Secretary Churchill's speech in the house of commons and to pressure from London, but the government insists that its action was contemplated and was postponed only until the result of the elections was known and the refusal of the republicans to accept it became manifest. It seems certain that there has been an irreparable split. The republicans are expressing doubt whether the newly elected parliament can meet on Saturday and declare their intention of absenting themselves.

Comp by Free Staters

BELFAST, June 28. (By Associated Press.)—Free state troops yesterday secured a coup on the main Dublin road beyond Drogheda, capturing three of the principal officers of the Dundalk irregular troops, Commandants P. J. McKenna, Michael Donnelly and John McGuire.

The three captives were taken to Drogheda where considerable tension prevails.

Two Free State Officers Killed
BELFAST, June 28. (By Associated Press.)—Col. Commandant Mandeville and Staff Captain Vaughan of the Free State forces, who were shot, died of their wounds, says a message from Dublin.

De Valera Not Active
LONDON, June 28. (By Associated Press.)—Eamon de Valera, the republican political leader, is not reported to have taken any public action in connection with the Dublin conflict but has repeated his known views in favor of Rory O'Connor's forces, whom he regards as the sole defenders of Irish liberty; the Free Staters, to his view, are acting under British compulsion.

It seems increasingly improbable that Mr. de Valera and his supporters will take any part in the government under the treaty and that the proposed coalition administration never will come into existence.

Michael Collins, head of the provisional government, in an interview in the Daily Mail said in effect that four seats in the cabinet would go to de Valera's followers but that they would have to sign an acceptance to the treaty if they took the seats. The Mail's correspondent adds that it is altogether unlikely that they would do this.

PELLETIER RESIGNS NO. DAKOTA PRIMARY

Gives Up Office of Supreme Advocate of Knights of Columbus

NEW HAVEN, Conn., June 28.—Joseph C. Pelletier, former district attorney in Boston, has resigned as supreme advocate of the Knights of Columbus, it was announced at K. of C. headquarters today.

Mr. Pelletier in a letter to Supreme Knight James A. Flaherty asked that the resignation take effect at once. He leaves the office after 15 years' service, during which he was honored by the Holy See and the French and Italian governments.

Mr. Pelletier, who was removed as district attorney by the Massachusetts supreme court on charges of malfeasance and nonfeasance in office, said in his letter of resignation:

"I contemplated resigning some time ago, but when my enemies outside the order commenced a propaganda within it to force trouble, I decided to wait and watch developments."

"Now that the entire order, through its state jurisdiction, has had a chance to pass upon the question, with the result that only a mere handful has succumbed to this hostile propaganda, I have decided to act, and in so doing to express my deepest appreciation of the loyalty and membership of the order to me."

Mr. Pelletier will stay in office for a few days in an effort to clear some of the details of his work which have not been completed. He said he would be glad to help his successor get acquainted with the work, but otherwise wished to sever his connections as soon as possible.

Not at Home
BOSTON, June 28.—Joseph C. Pelletier, whose resignation as supreme advocate of the Knights of Columbus was announced at New Haven, was not in this city today. Officials of the state branch of the order said Mr. Pelletier left Boston yesterday but that they did not know his destination.

Mr. Pelletier was removed as district attorney of Suffolk county by the Massachusetts supreme court last February after an extended hearing on charges of extortion and misconduct in office, preferred by Attorney General J. Weston Allen. Pelletier offered no defense at the hearing of the charges; nor did he contest the disbarment proceedings recently brought against him in the court and he was subsequently disbarred.

In answer to a petition filed by the United States district attorney here seeking to disbar him from the federal district court, Pelletier denied categorically the allegations contained in the petition, which were based on the decision of the Massachusetts court in disbarring him from state practice. The federal court petition is still pending.

MASS. A SICKLY STATE

500,000 Pints of Liquor Used

"for Medicinal Purposes"

in Past Year

BOSTON, June 29.—Liquor is altogether too popular as a medicine, said Prohibition Director Elmer C. Potter in announcing yesterday that about 500,000 pints of it were dispensed "for medicinal purposes" during 1921 in Massachusetts.

"This is about one pint to every eight persons in the state," he said, "which is a fair proportion, but considerably more than was necessary for medicinal purposes, probably."

Under present regulations, each physician is limited to 100 prescriptions of a pint every three months, and there are nearly 4000 physicians in Massachusetts holding these permits to prescribe liquor. It was said that a large number of these physicians are using their blanks to the limit, but many, on the other hand, are using only a few of their allowances.

PRESENTED GOLD BADGE

At last evening's meeting of Clan Grant, O.E.C., Chapman Miller, who is soon to sail for Scotland, was presented a gold badge, the presentation being made by Past Chief Cardell. In the course of the meeting plans were perfected for the cutting of the clan to be held at the Martin Luther grounds July 22, and routine business was transacted.

By 1977, at the latest, women will rule the world and men will do the housework and care for the children, according to the prophecy of a professor in the University of Southern California.

HERE'S ONE WAY TO KEEP KIDDIES COOL THIS SUMMER

BOY DROWNED IN HALE'S BROOK

Hale's brook claimed another victim yesterday afternoon when Norman F. Warner, aged eight years, son of Mr. and Mrs. John S. Warner, of 21 Hutchinson street, was drowned. The accident occurred in the rear of the Chelmsford street hospital, whither young Warner had gone with a number of companions to take a dip.

Being unable to swim, the youngster went beyond his depth, sank and did not come to the surface again. The body was quickly recovered but all efforts at resuscitation proved futile. The body was removed to the rooms of Undertaker Geo. W. Healey by order of Medical Examiner Thomas B. Smith. He leaves, besides his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John S. Warner, four sisters, Evelyn B., Thelma, J., Maybelle E. and Marion L. Warner.

Reader Takes Newer Form of Iron—Feels Years Younger

"Six weeks ago I saw a special offer in the paper telling how thousands of people grow old in looks and energy long before they are really old in years, because, as examinations by physicians have shown, an enormous number of people do not have enough iron in their blood. I have been taking Nuxated Iron for two weeks; the results are simply astounding. The roses have come back to my lips and cheeks, and I can conscientiously say that I feel ten years younger."

The above is a typical hypothetical case showing the results that have been achieved by a great many people since we started this "satisfaction or money back" offer on Nuxated Iron. We will make you the same guarantee. If, after taking the two weeks' treatment of Nuxated Iron, you do not feel and look years younger, we will promptly refund your money. Walkout Set for Saturday to have quit in West Chicago, Ill., today waiting receipt of strike orders. It was said the men "deserted in droves" leaving many crossings unguarded. Mayor Edward J. McCabe of West Chicago, has sworn in a number of special policemen to guard railroad property.

Engineers Not to Quit

CLEVELAND, June 29.—(By Associated Press)—Engineers and trainmen, members of the railroad brotherhoods with headquarters in this city, will continue to perform their regular duties and will not take the places or do the work of any railroad employees on strike in connection with the strike of the ship crafts called for Saturday morning, chiefs of these brotherhoods advised the members of their organizations today. Warren S. Stone, president of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers and William G. Lee, president of the Brotherhood of Trainmen, issued instructions to this effect to all members of their organizations today. W. S. Carter, president of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Engineers, was absent from the city today but it was expected officers at local headquarters would issue similar instructions to their men.

Order Issued by Kline

CHICAGO, June 29.—(By Associated Press)—The first actual step toward a rail strike of railroad workers in protest against decisions of the United States Railroad Labor board was taken last night when J. W. Kline, president of the International Brotherhood of Blacksmiths, Drop Forgers and Helpers, sent a telegram to the members of his craft, numbered among the shop workers, authorizing a cessation of work at 10 a. m. Saturday, July 1, according to news stories published here today.

Workers in the Pullman shops were included in the orders. The impending walkout makes Saturday a momentous day in the railroad world. On that date the $100,000,000 cut in freight rates ordered by the Interstate Commerce commission becomes effective, simultaneously with a slash of $135,000,000 from the wages of railroad workers ordered by the United States Railroad Labor board. The pay of the shipman was cut $60,000,000.

Railroad officials anticipated news of further strike orders to maintain the status quo. Upon completion of the canvass of their strike vote at Detroit.

In spite of the impending walkout from the shops and the tracks, rail officials declared transportation would continue to move, because train service employees who constitute the "big four" brotherhoods, switchmen and telegraphers are not parties to controversies over wages and working rules.

The shopmen's strike is in protest against the wage reductions, the abolition of rules by the Railroad Labor board and the farming out of shop work to contractors. Maintenance of way men hailed solely on the wage reduction.

It was a coincidence that the Association of Railway Executives called a meeting here today, according to rail officials. The meeting, it was said, was called two weeks in advance of the ultimatum by B. M. Jewell, head of the shop unions for a conference principally on contracts with the American Railway Express Co.

The strike situation, however, made the meeting all the more important. Rejection of Jewell's ultimatum that the roads ignore the labor board's wage cut decisions and restore abolished rules governing working conditions, was certain, it was said, rail officials declaring that Jewell's conditions for averting a strike were "impossible."

On the other hand a conference between railroad executives and union leaders was declared possible, not so much in any hope of reaching an agreement but as a vehicle for carrying the disputes immediately to the labor board which saved the nation from a rail strike last October. By the formality of an announcement that the roads and unions could reach an agreement, the labor board, it was pointed out, could take jurisdiction as it did in the threatened strike of the "big four" brotherhoods last fall.

Another possibility was that the board could similarly assume jurisdiction over situations growing out of an actual strike on the grounds that the strike would interrupt commerce.

Tabulation of Vote

DETROIT, June 29 (by the Associated Press).—Tabulation of the national strike vote taken by the United Brotherhood of Maintenance of Way Employees and Railway Shop Laborers in protest against a wage cut scheduled July 1, continued at the general headquarters of the organization here today, with indications that more than half the 400,000 ballots believed to have been cast will be checked up by tonight. Throughout the count, officials say, it has been evident that the membership is overwhelmingly in favor of a strike, provided other unions join in.

How to Play Baseball

Many Points for Outfielders to Remember, Says Hooper

HARRY HOOPER

BY HARRY HOOPER
Outfielder, Chicago White Sox

Playing the outfield is an art which most any one can acquire by constant practice. To some it comes easy. To others only after hard and conscientious effort.

The first step in outfielding is to learn to properly catch a fly ball. To do this it is necessary to get a quick start. It is also necessary to acquire the art of catching a ball while running at full speed in or out or to either side.

In running after a fly ball the outfielder should always run on his toes to be more correct, on the ball of his feet. If he allows the heel to strike the ground, the jar carries up the spine to the eye and causes an optical illusion which makes the ball seem to come down in a zigzag course.

Watch the Wind

If you have a long run to make in order to reach a fly ball, run your feet at the start, so that you can have an opportunity to time the ball and be running easily at the catch. Try to make every play look easy.

An outfielder must study the batter.

Knowing where a batter is likely to hit enables the fielder to play properly for him.

The fielder must also note the wind and take into consideration the effect it has on the course of the ball.

It is necessary that the fielder always know how many are out and the score. These conditions have much to do with the proper handling of the ball.

For instance, when your team is several runs ahead, it is not good judgment to try to throw a base-runner out at third or the plate, but instead get the ball into second and hold the batsman to a single.

Get Ball to Second

Ground balls should be played carefully except when there is a play to be made. Then you must be able to come in at full speed, scoop up the ball like an infielder and throw it while still in motion.

When the batter hits safely to the outfield, get the ball into second base as quickly as possible, particularly on fast men.

All long throws to the plate or first base should be bounced in on the first hop. This also calls for much practice.

Pittsburg Successful Regardless of Star Catcher

WALTER SCHMIDT

BY BILLY EVANS

A high class veteran backstop is generally regarded as absolutely essential for a major league club that aspires to win a pennant.

Last year Walter Schmidt, of the Pittsburgh club ranked first in the National League averages covering the catchers.

Sometimes the averages do not tell the truth, but in Schmidt's case his ranking was regarded as well deserved. At the bat he hit close to .300.

This story is to be the tale of a major league club that seems to be doing very nicely without the aid of the star backstop.

Last winter Schmidt and the Pittsburgh club could not agree on salary. A star catcher is always much in demand, and perhaps Schmidt figured that if he failed to agree on terms he would be traded.

When stars differ with their clubs and hold out, things usually happen that way. The player is traded to some club willing to satisfy the star.

Owner Dreyfus of the Pittsburgh club and Manager Gibson took a definite stand in the Schmidt matter, they stand pat.

As a result Schmidt is still out in the cold, while the Pittsburgh club is moving along very nicely.

Nothing to Pittsburgh

I rather thought the absence of Schmidt would seriously injure the chances of the Pirates. However, such doesn't seem to be the case.

Schmidt goes merrily along, winning a majority of games and always staying within striking distance of the league leading Giants.

The case of Schmidt and the Pittsburgh club is one of the few cases on record where the absence of a star catcher has not played havoc with the team's chances.

During the past month I have discussed the case of Schmidt with a number of our National League players, as well as several managers from that organization. All of them seem to hold the same opinion in the matter. The consensus of those I talked with runs about as follows:

"Schmidt is a great catcher. Any major league club could use him to advantage. Ordinarily his absence would be severely felt, the personnel of the Pittsburgh pitching staff, however, is such, that the club is getting by very nicely without Schmidt."

If the Pittsburgh pitchers were a lot of young fellows, with a tendency to be wild and always in need of experienced coaching, Schmidt would be greatly missed.

They Have the Pitchers

Such, however, is not the case. Take such pitchers as Babe Adams, Cooper, Hamilton and Carlson and most any good mechanical catching would satisfy them.

"Those four veterans know how to pitch, have the control, and possess an inside knowledge of all the batters. In addition the recruits of last year, Morrison and Glasner, have almost graduated into the veteran class."

"Coach, who has been doing most of the catching, is a fine receiver and thrower. He lacks experience, but any thinking necessary is supplied by the veteran pitchers."

All of which struck me as a pretty good explanation of why Pittsburgh wasn't missing Schmidt.

LAWRENCE TEAM WANTS TO PLAY DAYLIGHTS

Sporting Editor:

Dear Sir—The Lawrence, Independent would like to play the Highland Daylights, leaders of the Lowell Twilight League, in the near future.

The Lawrence Independents have one of the fastest teams in the state. It is made up of all local players and has defeated the Salem Town team, Dorchester B.C., St. Andrews A.A., and St. Joseph's A.C. the latter three being members of the Boston Twilight League.

The Independents have lost to the Haverhill Pros, 2-0, with King Bader, former big leaguer, pitching against them, also the Malden K. of C., who beat them in the north landing.

We consider we have one of the best semi-pro clubs in the state and are booked to play the Cleveland Glants (colored) Friday, June 30, and North Cambridge K.C. Saturday, July 1. Both of these games are to be played at Lawrence.

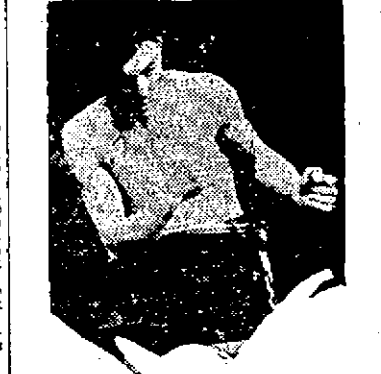

The North Cambridge K. of C. are the leaders of the Boston Twilight League.

Would like to hear from the manager of the Highland Daylights as soon as possible.

Yours in sport,
W. E. McDOUGALL, Mgr.
59 South Broadway, Lawrence, Mass.

GEORGE FOSTER COMES BACK AS INFIELDER

George Foster is back on the lot. Foster, the hero of the Boston Americans when they won their last world series.

GEORGE FOSTER

George quit the game after that memorable series because he couldn't agree on salary. He was then sold to the New York Yankees and again refused to report, for the same reason.

He has been out of the game until about three weeks ago when he broke in as a shortstop with Henryetta, Okla., in the Western association and he has been going like a house on fire. He is holding and hitting in a most sensational manner, although his career so far has been brief, he has attracted the attention of the big league scouts.

AIDS PRISONERS

Dot Brown, 16, school girl of Washington, D. C., is known as the youngest active charity campaigner in the United States. When she isn't studying, she's writing letters for funds for the Prisoners' Relief society, which aids ex-convicts.

The 1922 baby costs nearly four times as much as his pre-war brother or sister.

Braves and Red Sox Win—Latter Move Out of Cellar—Collins Makes 4 Hits

NEW YORK, June 29.—Walter Johnson, "snake ball" king of the Washington Senators, will have no difficulty reaching the goal of 100 shutouts in his big league career at the moment he is now maintaining. He registered his third straight shutout of the season and the 97th of his 16 years' service in the majors when he blanked the Yankees, 1 to 0, in a thrilling duel with his youthful rival, Waite Hoyt.

Johnson had perfect control and added to his record on the strikeout king of all time, by whiffing all nine of the New York team. His strikeout total at the end of last season was 252, eighteen more than the mark set by Cy Young as a pitcher in both the National and American leagues.

The St. Louis Browns took advantage of the chance to tie the first lead by trouncing Cleveland, 9 to 0, after twice falling before the Indians, while the White Sox won their second straight game from the skittling Detroit Tigers and went into undisputed possession of third place. The Chicagoans are only a game behind the first place Yankees. Ty Cobb's men are handicapped by the absence of their star closer, Harry Heilmann, who has a wrenched shoulder.

Cy Williams anchored out homer No. 11, and Casey Stengel added another circuit blow to his list while the Giants and Phillies sold a doubleheader. Incidentally, these were the only circuit blows registered in either league.

The Boston Braves knocked Buzo Vance out of the box and ended their long losing streak by beating the Brooklyn Dodgers, 4 to 3, after they climbed back to fourth place after taking another from Chicago, 7 to 2.

John Collins, with four homers, led the Red Sox to victory over the Athletics, 4 to 2, and the Sox moved out of the cellar.

"MATTY" HURLS STRIKE

Fight for Life Won, "Big Six" Opens Season at Saranac Lake

SARANAC LAKE, N. Y., June 29.—"Big Six" Christy Mathewson, idol of baseball fans the country over, for the first time since he came to Saranac Lake, more than two years ago, his life threatened, walked out to the mound yesterday, wound up and tossed a perfect strike around the plate, while 2000 admirers cheered themselves hoarse.

"Matty" was accorded a demonstration from the moment his car came onto the field until he had hurled out the last ball of the season. The big gathering included friends of the great pitcher who had come up to see for themselves the fruits of the great fight against tuberculosis that waged and won. He looked well and gave no sign of having been through his recent illness.

After a procession, headed by a band, players on both teams that opened the season, local officials and fans, escorted Matty, his wife and Christy, Jr., to a point behind the home plate. Matty left the machine and to the lusty cheers of the crowd, walked slowly but firmly to the mound. On the mound he stretched to full height, raised the ball aloft, partly wound up and then rubbed his shoulder—he had been sent in "dead."

As he tossed the ball to the catcher an ovation was accorded him that continued until he had returned to his car and driven slowly to centerfield, where he watched the game. It was the opening of a small circuit, the highest of the bush leagues, but to the thousands of fans who have watched Matty's fight for health, it was the return to the diamond of one of the greatest heroes baseball fans have ever known—a victory in a grim fight with death.

PHIL NOT EDDIE O'DOWD KAYOED BY TREMAINE

It has been broadcasted throughout the country that Carl Tremaine put Eddie O'Dowd to sleep in quick time last Decoration day at Youngstown.

EDDIE O'DOWD

Get it straight, boys; get it straight, Eddie and Carl have never boxed. It was Phil O'Dowd who took the mat and not Eddie.

Phil O'Dowd is also a bantam and holds from the same town, so in all due respect to Eddie we must be impressed.

Eddie O'Dowd is the boy who battled Johnny Huff so gloriously last May. He is entirely innocent of ever suffering a knockout at the hands of Tremaine or any other boxer.

QUIMET FAVORITE IN GOLF TOURNAMENT

SALEM, June 29.—The first round of match play in the state amateur golf championship tournament began today on the Kennwood Country club course. Thirty-two golfers, representing 10 clubs, qualified yesterday.

Francis Quimet, former national and state amateur champion, medalist with a 143, was pitted against W. J. Quinlan of Scarborough. Quinlan's 9 yesterday placed him far down in the list of survivors of the medal play.

Quimet's wizardry in the qualifying rounds made him the favorite for the title play on Saturday. His 10 for the morning round bettered the course record for two strokes.

D. W. Estabrook of the Country club, second on the list with a qualifying score of 130, was matched today against R. R. Gorton of Hiram. Gorton won had a 131.

CROSSLEY WINS HIGH HONORS

Clarence F. Crossley of St. Louis has been awarded the conference medal for excellence in scholarship and athletics at the University of Illinois. This award is made to one graduating senior in each Big Ten institution.

Crossley, who received his degree in chemistry on June 11, played varsity baseball for three years. For two years he played in the outfield and this year he was moved to third base.

Three years ago Crossley organized an independent basketball team, self-styled the Apaches. In three years of intramural basketball this team of which Crossley was the organizer, coach, captain and one of the players, played nearly 70 games and won them all.

To the casual observer this may not mean much, but this year this same team entered the sectional independent amateur basketball tournament at Danville and emerged champions.

Although a chemist by education, Crossley has elected to enter the coaching profession. He will be athletic director of the Quincy high school next year.

OXFORD UNIVERSITY GIVES TAFT A DEGREE

OXFORD, Eng., June 28.—(By Associated Press)—William Howard Taft received the degree of Doctor of Civil Law from Oxford University yesterday for his contribution to the friendship between England and America, and his distinguished services as a lawyer and a jurist.

The presentation occurred in the ancient Sheldonian Theatre, where for 500 years numbers of the world's greatest minds in science, literature, and medicine have received similar degrees. After the ceremony, Chief Justice Taft had luncheon with the vice-chancellor, the proctors and professors of the university.

There were cordial exchanges of felicitation between Chief Justice Taft and the public orator of the university, who conferred the degree.

In conferring the title upon Mr. Taft, the public orator said:

"This eminent lawyer has played a great part in the history of his country and the world. Even before his services were crowned and his sphere of activity enlarged by his election as president of the United States, he had made an eminent contribution to legal learning."

"He has now come to England to acquaint himself more fully with the working of the English judicial system, and his presence here is an indication of the friendship between England and America which he, himself, has fostered and which we all hope will ever endure."

Hearty applause from Oxford faculty, students and spectators greeted Mr. Taft when, gowned in flowing robes of crimson and blue, he acknowledged the degree with a gracious bow and with a brief word of thanks. The entire ceremony was in Latin.

Similar degrees were conferred upon Lord Chancellor Birkhead for "his services as head of the English judicial system and for his statesmanlike qualities," and upon Cardinal Bourne for "his firm, impartial attitude in perilous times and his devotion to public order."

John Masefield, the author, and Menéndez Pidal, professor of philosophy at the University of Madrid, received degrees of doctor of letters.

Frank Gidworth Flint, a student from Seattle, Wash., won the chancellor's prize for the best English essay.

MONTHS OF SUFFERING

How a Baltimore Girl Recovered Her Health

Baltimore, Maryland.—"For several months I suffered with severe backache and general weakness. I could not sleep comfortably at night for pains in my back. I found your book at home one day and after reading it began at once to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I have had very good results and some of my girl friends are taking it now. You may use this letter to help other girls, as the letters in your book helped me."—ROSE WADNER, 2018 Roseland Place, Baltimore, Md.

That is the thought so often expressed in letters recommending Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. These women know what they have suffered, they describe their symptoms and state how they were finally made well. Just plain statements, but they want other women to be helped.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is a medicine made from medicinal roots and herbs, and without drugs, to relieve the sickness women so often have, which is indicated by backache, weak feelings, nervousness, and no ambition to get anything done or to go anywhere. It has helped many women. Why not try it?

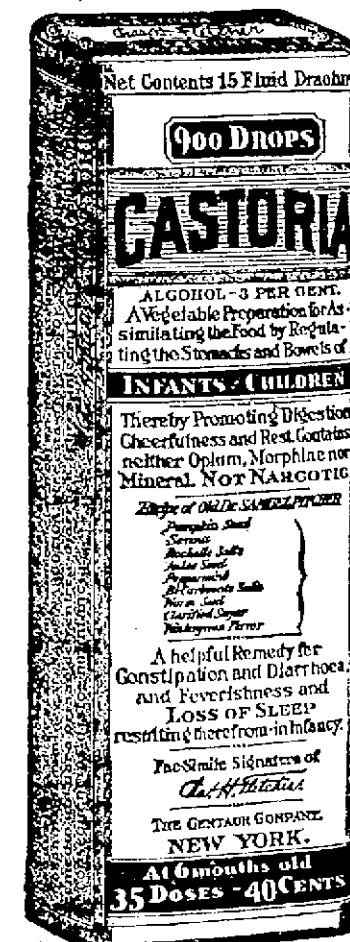

All sold out in many places last Sunday. Remember to order next Sunday's Boston Globe in advance.

The Young Mother.

THE ILLS OF INFANTS AND CHILDREN should be so well known to the youngest of mothers that a reminder or a repetition of the symptoms of illness seems unnecessary, yet there are some mothers who overlook a feverish condition, a little colic, or a disposition to be irritable. If not corrected they may lead to serious sickness. And to correct them, to bring Baby back to its happy self, is so easy by the use of Castoria—a medicine prepared just for infants and children. It will regulate the bowels (not force them), aid digestion and so bring quiet and rest.

Fletcher's Castoria has been doing this for over 30 years; regulating the stomach and bowels of infants and children. It has replaced the nauseating Castor Oil, so-called Soothing Syrups, poisonous Paregoric and other vicious concoctions in the homes of true and honest mothers—mothers who love their children.

Those mothers will give their babies foods and medicines especially prepared for infants and children.

Fletcher's CASTORIA

A Word About Truth.

"Great is Truth, and mighty above all things." So says the Old Testament, yet it is equally true to-day. Truth shows no favors, fears no enemies.

From the inception of Fletcher's Castoria, Truth has been the watchword, and to the conscientious adherence to this motto in the preparation of Fletcher's Castoria as well as in its advertising is due the secret of its popular demand.

All imitations, all substitutes, all just-as-good preparations lack the element of Truth, lack the righteousness of being, lack all semblance even in the words of those who would deceive.

And you! Mothers, mothers with the fate of the World in your hands, can you be deceived? Certainly not.

Fletcher's Castoria is prepared for Infants and Children. It is distinctly a remedy for the little ones. The BABY'S need for a medicine to take the place of Castor Oil, Paregoric and Soothing Syrups was the sole thought that led to its discovery. Never try to correct BABY'S troubles with a medicine that you would use for yourself.

CLARENCE LOUD SEEKS PAY FOR TIME IN JAIL

BOSTON, June 28.—Clarence W. Loud, of Melrose, who was acquitted of the murder of Patrolman Preston of the Wakefield police last January in the East Cambridge court, filed a petition yesterday in that court seeking compensation for the time which he spent in jail over the six months' limit prescribed by Massachusetts law.

Preston was murdered on April 9, 1921. Loud was arrested on April 10, indicted on April 26, arraigned on May 13, put on trial on Jan. 3, 1922, and acquitted on Jan. 26. Thus he spent approximately four months in excess of the six months.

The petition was heard yesterday by Judge John F. Brown of the superior criminal court in the judge's lobby. He refused to make any comment other than to say that he had received the petition and had taken it under advisement. Loud was represented by Judge Malcolm P. Sturtevant of Somerville. The county was represented by Dist. Atty. Endicott P. Saltonstall. He also refused to make any comment. The petition is brought in accordance with Section 73, Chapter 277 of the General Laws of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, which says in part: "Any person in this Commonwealth kept in confinement awaiting trial for more than six months after having been indicted and finally acquitted may receive compensation for the period of confinement after the lapse of the said six months and until the period of his acquittal; provided that the payment of compensation is approved by the justice who presided at the trial or by a justice of the superior court sitting at a session for criminal business in and for the county where the indictment was found. Such compensation shall be equal to the amount which the indicted person earned or received from his regular employment for any period of equal length during the two years immediately preceding his confinement. The decision of the justice shall be final."

GROCERS PLAN TO REDUCE PRICES

CLEVELAND, June 28.—Funds for a five-year investigation of methods to reduce the retail grocers' operating and distributing costs and to bring down prices to the consumer were pledged by delegates to the annual convention of the National Association of Retail Grocers, in session here.

The inquiry, the delegates urged, should be pushed under the direction of the Harvard Bureau of Business Research, with the co-operation of the association. The Harvard Bureau recently completed a survey along similar lines.

LINEMAN KILLED BY 18,000 VOLTS

FRAMINGHAM, June 28.—Michael Varacco, aged 31, of Haver, a lineman, died in Framingham hospital yesterday, as a result of having come in contact with an electric wire said to carry 18,000 voltage, while soldering a transformer on Elm street, Framingham.

Varacco accidentally caught hold of the live wire, while at work on a pole and he fell to the ground. It was said that he was not burned, but suffered from the shock. First aid was given the injured man by Dr. C. J. Carr, and a nurse in the service of the Roxbury company, near where plant the accident occurred. Efforts to resuscitate Varacco were unavailing. It was stated by fellow workmen that Varacco had been married only a few weeks.

NATURALIZATION COURT WILL TOUR BATTLEFIELDS

One Hundred and Eighty-one Men and Women Take Out Final Papers

From 10 o'clock this morning until late this afternoon Justice Marcus Norton of the federal court, United States District Attorney Dodge of Boston, Clerk of Courts Ralph Smith and Court Officers Conway, Stevens, Gately and Rhodes were kept on the jump at the superior court in Gorham street. The judge, attorney and clerks were kept busy examining applicants and swearing them in as full fledged citizens of the United States while the court officers had all they could do to hold back the crowd.

One hundred and eighty-one applicants including several women, each accompanied by two witnesses took the court room by storm and so jostling and boisterous was the crowd that shortly before noon Justice Norton threatened to have everyone evicted from the court room unless the noise and confusion ceased at once. The court threats were respected and then everything went along smoothly until the last candidate had sworn allegiance to Uncle Sam.

Ordinarily a naturalization court session the applicants and their witnesses remain in the hall or occupy seats in the court room and wait until their names are called, but this morning's session was an exception to the rule for the citizens and their witnesses flocked into the court room and crowded each other in an endeavor to secure a place in the front line. There were numerous women in the crowd, some as applicants and others as witnesses, but their sex was not respected, as they were jostled around like the men folk.

Applicants were called individually and their witnesses questioned by the attorney and the court and as soon as fifteen of them had passed the test, they were sworn in a group by Clerk Smith. Then they were sent to the office of the clerk at the other end of the building and were given their final papers. Shortly before noon the crowd became impatient and there was a rush for the front line and it required the strength of the four stair ward court officers to hold them back. It was at this point that Justice Norton issued his order for the crowd to be cleared out of the court room.

There is no need of much feeling," said the judge, "for there is plenty of time and all of you will be looked after before court adjourns."

RESTLESS SETTER AWAITS CLAIMANT

Attempting to keep prisoner what is believed to be a valuable English setter dog, has given certain members of the police department more trouble than two dozen bandits. For three days past now the dog has been a prisoner in the station garage on and off. Three times he has escaped from his keepers, and this morning made his latest successful dash for liberty.

The police are not so much concerned over the dog as they are his actions when loose. It seems the animal has taken a fond liking to number 212 Lincoln street. He has disturbed the entire neighborhood for a week or more by sitting in front of the house in question at night and emitting real plaintive wails.

The residents of that section did not seem to mind the mid-afternoon serenades; they sort of liked them for they added a little color to otherwise dull days. But when night time came, and the howl for slumber approached, they did not longer want to enter in on canine broadcasts.

Accordingly the police took the dog in charge. He is a gentle animal and one with apparent unusual dog-like intelligence. He wears a key which cost him his freedom. For the reason that he is thought to be a valuable animal the police have commuted the gas-box sentence.

However, there is an end to police patience and unless the owner of the animal shows up within a few days, the dog may be dispatched to the humane hunting grounds via the gas route.

Seeing the police logic, human beings demand sufficient attention without lavishing too much of it upon a stray dog.

MEDALS FOR GOLD STAR MOTHERS

Five local jewelry manufacturers today submitted bids to furnish 150 gold medals for presentation by the city to Lowell's Gold Star mothers. The regulation called for a maximum expenditure of $2200 and specified that the quality of gold should be 14 karat, 12 pennyweight. A number of bids were submitted on 10 karat, but only those which comply with the specifications will be considered.

Joseph M. Dinneen bid $2196.67 for 150 medals. M. Schanzman submitted eight bids ranging from $12.75 to $16.95 each. The Prince-Cox Co. bid $14.50 per medal. J. J. Quinn bid $22 each for 14 karat gold and $2200 for the lot made out of 10 karat gold. Frank Ricard bid from $15 to $22 on 12 pennyweight and from $17 to $24 on 12 pennyweight, both of 14 karat.

Each jeweler submitted designs and samples with his bids. These will be examined by the mayor before the contract is awarded.

CHILDREN'S DAY AT COUNTRY CLUB

Despite threatening weather, the annual children's day at the Vesper Country club was held this afternoon, with a fine program of entertainment. Flying horses were there for the children to enjoy and, although the grass was too damp for much general play out of doors, everything possible was done for their entertainment in the clubhouse. A splendid concert program was played by Aitken's band. This evening the first of the Thursday night dances will be held, to be continued throughout the summer months.

FINES FOR VIOLATION OF LIQUOR LAWS

Two fines for the violation of the liquor laws were collected in district court this morning with Judge Thos. J. Enright on the bench. Both cases were old ones and had been continued from previous dates to today. George A. Smith, who was arrested some time ago and charged with both illegal keeping and illegal sale, pleaded guilty to the illegal sale and not guilty to illegal keeping. The court said that while he could be technically held in both charges he would dismiss the illegal keeping charge which was done. Smith was fined $150 for the illegal sale and paid.

Manuel Bettencourt also paid a fine for a liquor violation. He was arrested last Sunday night and charged with illegal keeping. Disposition of the case was continued until today when he pleaded guilty to the offense and paid a fine of $100.

Melvin L. Stone faced charges of being drunk and operating an auto while under the influence of liquor. His case was continued to Saturday. He was arrested yesterday in Dracut by a member of the police and taken to the city jail. The officer to be present today caused the postponement of the case.

James P. McGrath pleaded guilty to a charge of drunkenness. His case was continued for 10 days. Joseph Milnes pleaded guilty to a like offense and his case was put over until tomorrow.

Alfred Gaudier pleaded not guilty to illegal keeping. Hagop Krapian pleaded not guilty to an illegal sale. Both cases were continued to July 6.

WILL ACCOMMODATE NAVY RECRUITERS

Beginning Monday, a portion of the chamber of commerce headquarters will be turned over to Chief Petty Officer McIntyre of the United States navy for recruiting purposes, the secretary of the station to continue for about three weeks. As no money is available from the government for recruiting purposes, the officers turn naturally to the chamber of commerce building for various reasons. At the local postoffice conditions are so crowded that it was impossible to give them the space required for examination and other details. Appeal was made to the chamber, and the secretary-manager gave permission to use the rear section of the quarters.

This portion of the chamber rooms has been in constant use for purposes outside the organization. "Sally" drive time. During the recent "Sally" drive time, the recruiting headquarters were established there, and now the Boy Scout campaign is reaching its close in the same location.

THE HIGH SCHOOL ALUMNI ASSOCIATION

The Lowell High School Alumni association will meet in the high school hall this evening at 8 o'clock. The most important business of this meeting will be the announcement of the drive committee for funds for the proposed high school stadium at Spaulding park. Both men and women are invited to attend. A committee headed by Bennett Silverblatt is now preparing agreements for the purchase of the Spaulding park land and the adjoining property known as the E. W. Cawley estate. This committee will also make a report tonight.

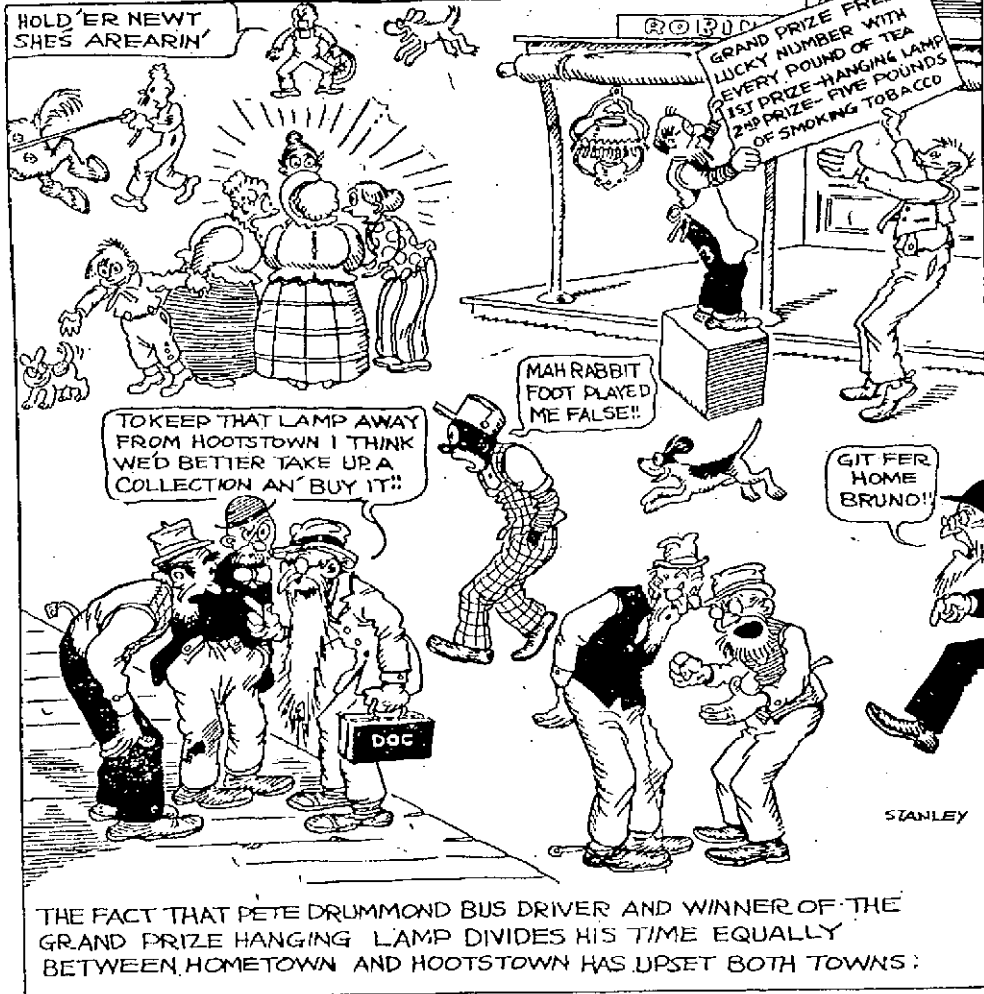

LOWELL DRUGGISTS HOLD MEETING

The monthly meeting of the Lowell Druggists' association was held last night. The meeting was well attended and several suggestions offered for the conduct of the annual outing which will be held at Whalom park on July 12. Drug stores will close at 8:30 on that day and the journey to the park will start at 9 o'clock. A buffet lunch will be served on arrival at the park, after which the usual variety of sports will be carried out. Besides the local druggists, several travelling men, representatives of various drug concerns, will make the trip. President W. H. Noonan is chairman of the committee on arrangements.

RETAIL JEWELERS PLAN BIG OUTING

Last night in the chamber of commerce rooms there was a meeting of the Lowell Retail Jewelers' association. H. H. Abbott presided and a great routine business was transacted. The principal feature of the meeting was the discussion of plans for the second annual summer outing of the Merrimack Valley Retail Jewelers' association, of which the Lowell organization is a component part, and the association of Nashua, Concord, Haverhill, Lawrence and other cities have been notified of the results of the discussion.

Last year's outing was held at the Vesper Country club, with 125 of more retail jewelers, besides a large number of wholesalers and manufacturers present, and was voted a great success. It is hoped to make the 1922 affair even more enjoyable.
